Almost everything we read about youth is negative. The generation gap came about because youth rebelled against the establishment. Vandalism, demonstrations, long hair, ragged jeans, radicals, rock music—these are labels on youth.

And all the while, most of us are going peacefully about our business attaining an education, competing in athletics, working through organizations to serve our community.

All young people aren't necessarily the ones in the headlines because, like us, they are mostly asking the world to see them as they are, hear what they say, and reach out to experience with them the joys of youth. Each is saying . . .

"See Me . . .
Hear Me . . .
Touch Me."

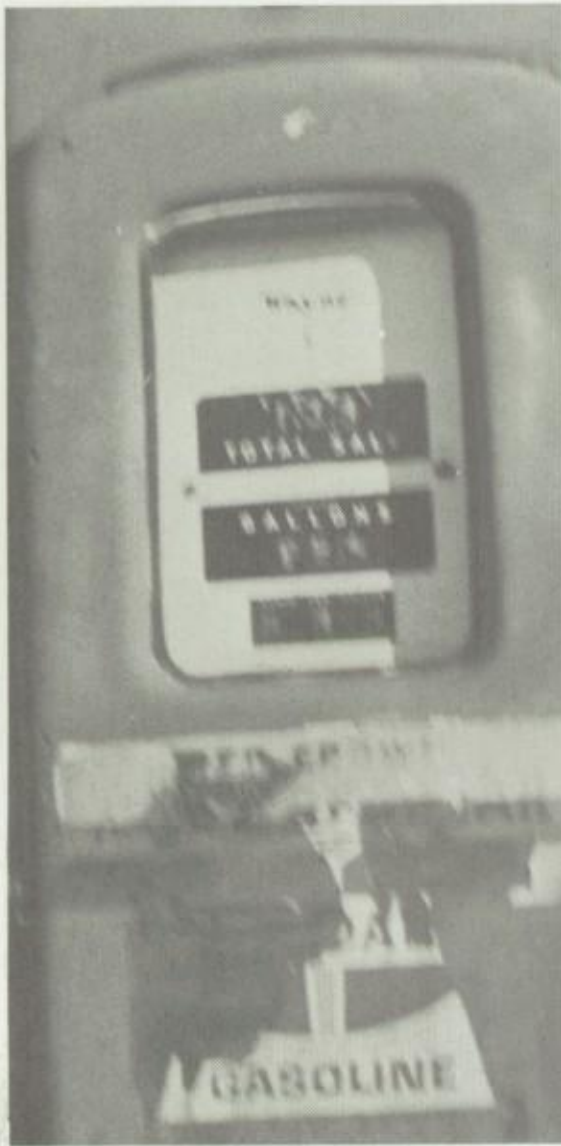

Students View World Problems

Center Grove students were caught up in the midst of world turmoil this year.

The Mideast War between Israel and Egypt, the gasoline shortage, Vice-President Spiro Agnew's resignation, and the Watergate scandal concerned most of the students during the 1973-74 school year.

Also, an honor color guard, sponsored by the U.S. Army enlistment center at Franklin, was started at Center Grove the past school year.

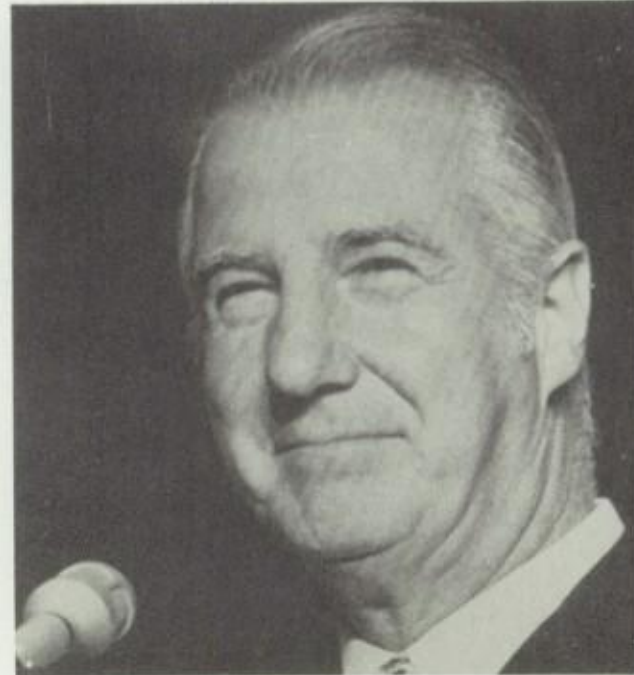

Most all CG students were involved in the energy shortage in one way or another.

Indianapolis's multimillion dollar fire was an inconvenience to several CG students.

The newly formed color guard at Center Grove consisted of Mike Arens, David Davis, Bill Wilson, Tony Sego, Dennis Coomer and Mike Wilding. The color guard was sponsored by the Army and trained by Sgt. Don Peed.

One of the highlights of the Homecoming festivities was the bonfire behind the junior high on the parking lot Thursday night before Homecoming. The bonfire was sponsored by the cheerleaders and the Booster Club.

Trojans Grab Homecoming Win

The year 1973 proved to be very promising for the athletes at Center Grove. Although the football team encountered some bad luck, they rallied to win the Homecoming.

The theme for the Oct. 12 game was "The Homecoming." To revive the school spirit, the Booster Club sponsored a "Spirit Week" and held such contests as Mr. Red (Brad Everson), Miss White (Linda Fair) and Mr. Irristible (Robin Boggs).

Mooreville provided the competition. The game was close all the way and into overtime. The Trojans pulled through, 29-28.

Floats highlighted a half-time parade; the seniors grabbed first place.

Connie Dorrell smiles happily as her sister Cathy crowns her 1973 Homecoming queen at the dance after the game.

"Roarin' Back For Victory" is the theme for the seniors' float that took first place in the Homecoming parade. This year's float was built at Linda Kidwell's house.

The team excitedly "piles on" after the Homecoming game.

Basketball Homecoming queen and court are freshmen Pam Blankenship and escort Sam Kovacs, sophomore Carrie Bennett and escort Mark Calvert, Junior Princess Lisa Hall and escort David Brown and 1974 Homecoming queen Valerie Doty and escort Mark Englehart.

Freshmen and sophomores who ran for the queen's court and their escorts are sophomores Carla Sutton, John Pangallo, Marla Trowbridge, Roel Carandang, Carrie Bennett, and Mark Calvert; freshmen Joy Lightner, Kenny Weber, Kathy Neff, John Rusher, Pam Blankenship and Sam Kovacs.

Anthem, the professional group that played at the Homecoming dance, which was in the junior high gym, poses for the camera. The group is from Indianapolis.

C.G. Whips Warriors

Homecoming is traditional at C.G., but this year it was traditional with a twist.

The seniors, sponsors of the event, decided the queen must be a senior; the princess, a junior.

Valerie Doty was elected queen, and the princess was Lisa Hall. Members of the court were Carrie Bennett and Pam Blankenship.

The Trojans scored a smashing 78-61 win over Whiteland.

Senior Valerie Doty registers surprise as she is crowned 1974 Homecoming queen by Cheryl (Pavey) Faust, last year's queen.

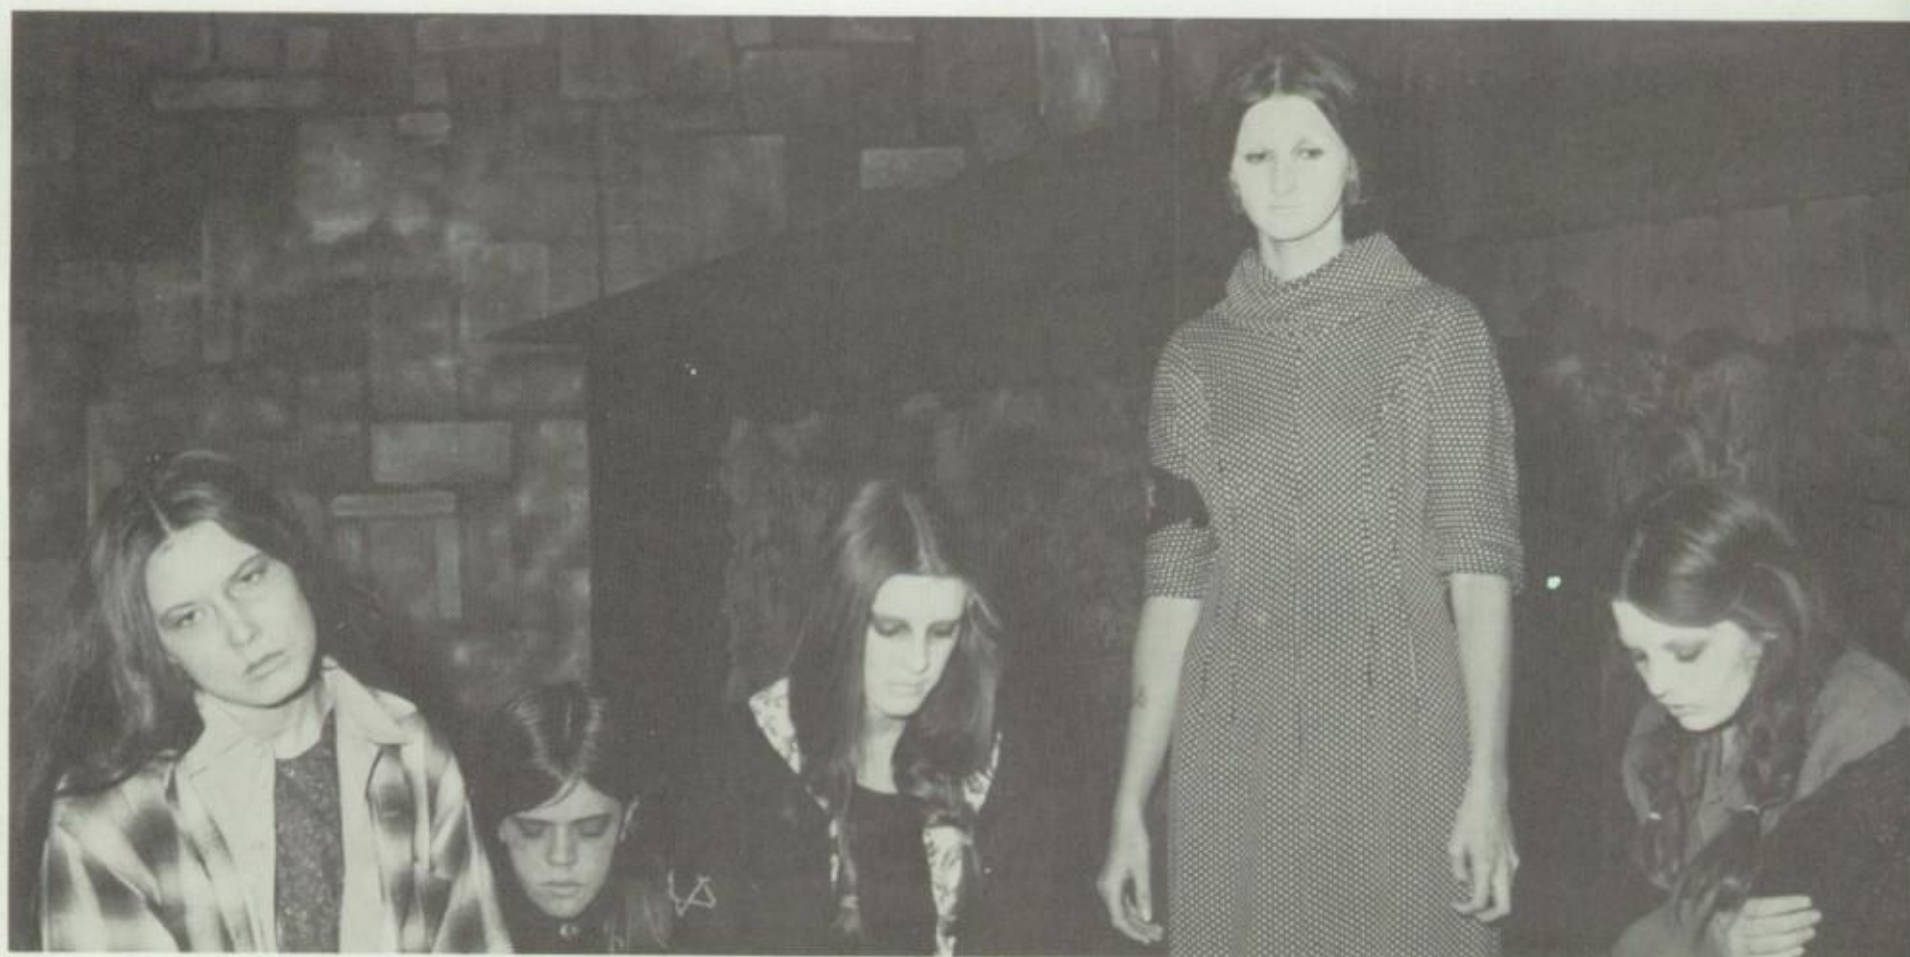

Junior Lisa Hall is crowned Homecoming princess by last year's queen, Cheryl Faust. Other juniors were Peggy Jones and Kathy Ulrey.

C.G. Plays Both Sad, Comical

Linda Kidwell comforts Linda Wood in a touching scene in the senior play.

In the senior play, Greg Elkins and Loretta Cox are being wed in the concentration camp by P. J. Marshall as Steve Manning and Carol Knotts watch.

On Nov. 8 and 9 "I Never Saw Another Butterfly" was presented by the senior class. In this scene Linda Kidwell conducts school for Max Warden, Joyce Weber, Cheryl Ford, and Joann Despot in the concentration camp during World War II.

Duchess Gloriana the XII (Joyce Bailey) ruler of Grand Fenwick, a country 3 miles wide by 5 miles long, declares war on the United States of America.

Many budding actors got their big chance when the seniors presented a drama and the juniors a comedy.

"I Never Saw Another Butterfly" was the senior play. The play was about a girl, played by Linda Wood, in a concentration camp during World War II.

The juniors did "The Mouse that Roared," in which Mike Dillow played a park ranger who leads his country into war with the U.S.

Mr. David Dusthimer was the director of both plays.

David Brown as secretary of state reads the Declaration of War to Cathy McCourt.

In character, Roger Bland, Tim Stewart and Mike Dillow discuss the bomb.

Musical Is A First

Greg Sickmeier who designed most of the set for "Finian's Rainbow," fishes in the creek.

Finian (Robin Boggs) hides his daughter Sharon (Linda Wood) in a tree when they hear someone coming. Finian brought Sharon to Misstucky, USA, to bury his gold at Ft. Knox.

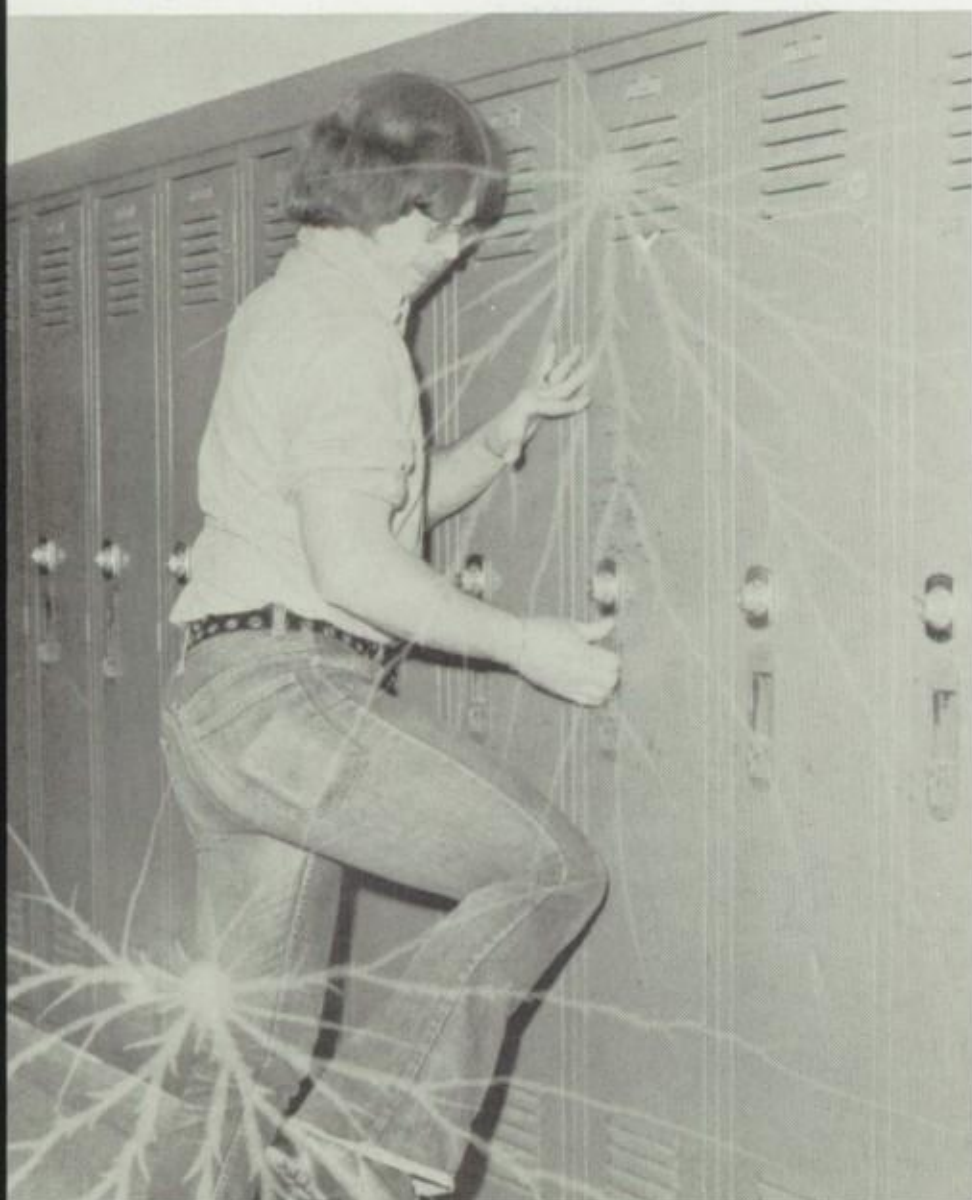

"Old Devil Moon . . ." sings Woody (Mike Dillow) to his betrothed Sharon (Linda Wood).

In The Halls Of Center Grove

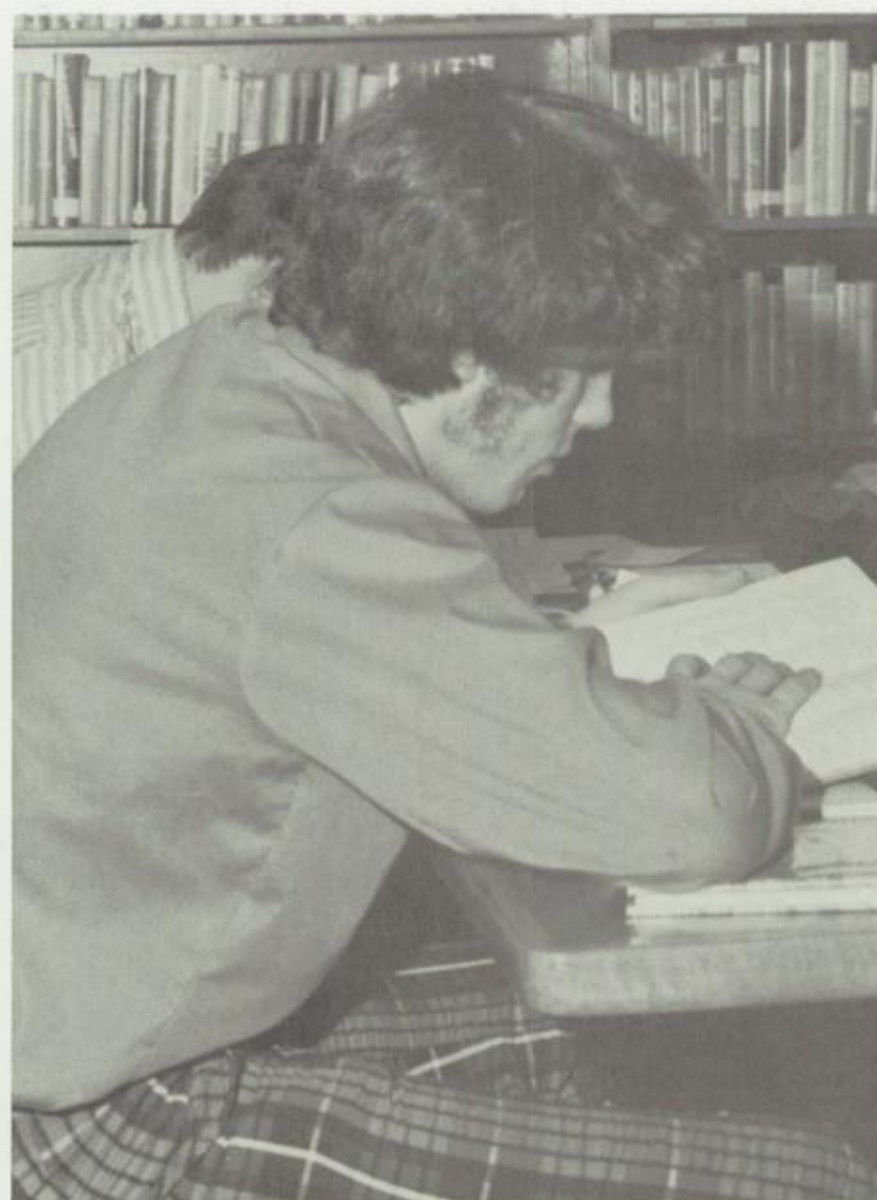

The halls of Center Grove High School appear calm and quiet during classtime. To some, it seems as though the halls are never empty.

But when the 2:30 bell rings, mass confusion reigns. With hundreds of students walking the halls, there seems to be no place to hide.

Curt Correll illustrates his magnificent brain waves as he is figuring out how to unlock the forgotten combination of locker 191.

Jim Girdley seems to enjoy the privilege of the library, as he studies vigorously and quietly for one of his English classes.

Donna Is New Queen

"A Night in Monte Carlo" was the 1974 prom theme.

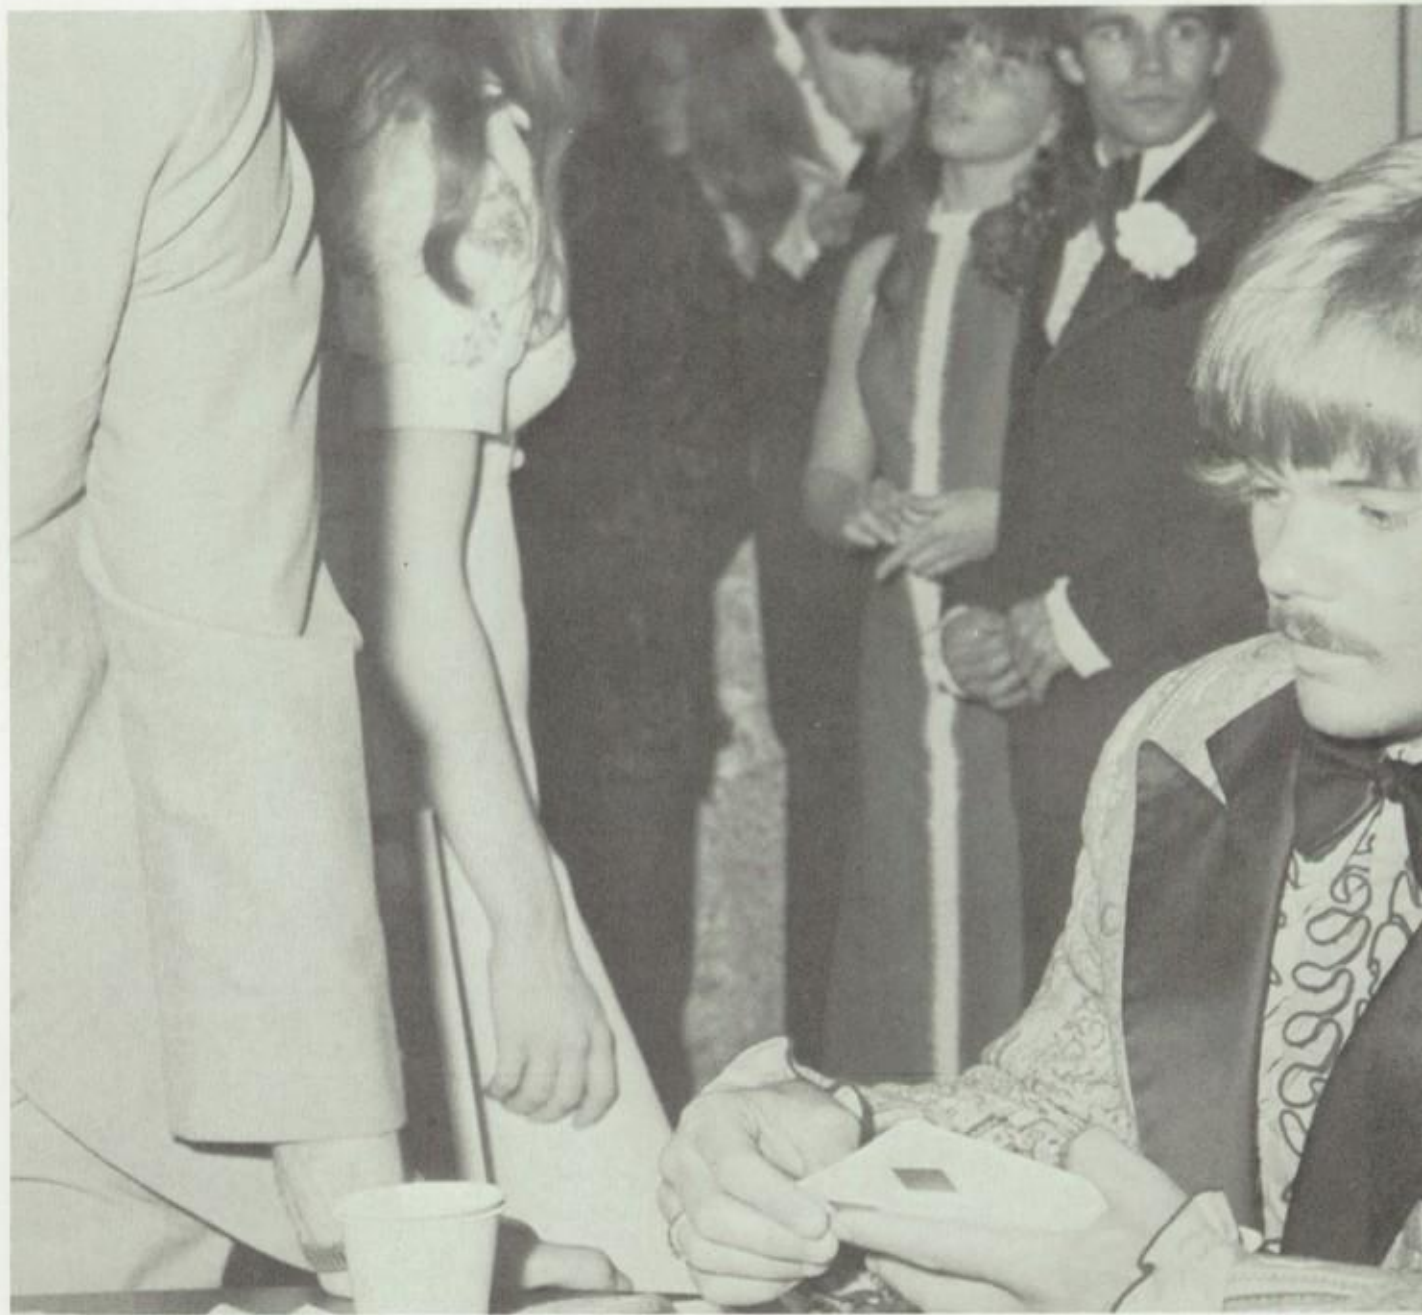

The juniors worked hard getting things ready for the May 3 event. The prom was at the Franklin College Campus Center, and the colors were light and dark blue. The room was set up to resemble a gambling casino with roulette, Texas poker, lotteria, wheel of fortune and blackjack.

The portraits were taken by Miss Nancy Wiseman, and the music was provided by the Plainfield High School dance band.

"A Night in Monte Carlo" provides the setting for the evening as Meresa Baker, Ken Dyar, Julie Ferguson and Mike Harris dance to the music of the Plainfield High School dance band.

Linda Wood and Jack Russell enjoy dancing at the prom.

Seniors Receive Awards

Mr. Paul Krohne presents Randy Lucas with the William Randolph Hearst Award.

Exchange student Rodrigo Barreto receives a jacket from Mr. Vandermeer.

Trojaneer managing editor Cathy Harrison receives the Most Valuable Staffer Award from the Indianapolis Star and News at Honor Day.

Golden cords are given to these seniors at Honor Day. All senior Honor Society members wear the cords at commencement.

Mr. John Clements presents Pat Cunningham and Bob Veerkamp with plaques for six or more varsity letters.

Mr. Robert Meuer presents Greg Elkins with the John Phillip Sousa Award for his work in the band.

Seniors Share Mixed Emotions

Tears were streaming down the faces of many of the senior girls as they said good-bye to their many friends, whom some of them will never see again, and to the school which some of them have gone to for the last 12 years.

The seniors graduated on May 26, 1974, at 8:00 p.m. in the Center Grove High School Gymnasium. Baccalaureate had to be combined with the commencement exercises because the Indianapolis 500 was on the same day.

The Rev. Wilma Allen of Honey Creek United Methodist Church was guest speaker for the exercises. Mr. Wilbur Hardin, superintendent of the schools, delivered the diplomas.

Gary Ragsdale hugs another graduate with joy after commencement ceremonies.

There were many mixed emotions at the May 26th graduation. Listening to the speaker during the graduation exercises are Curt Correll, Barbara Shoemaker and Steve Shay.

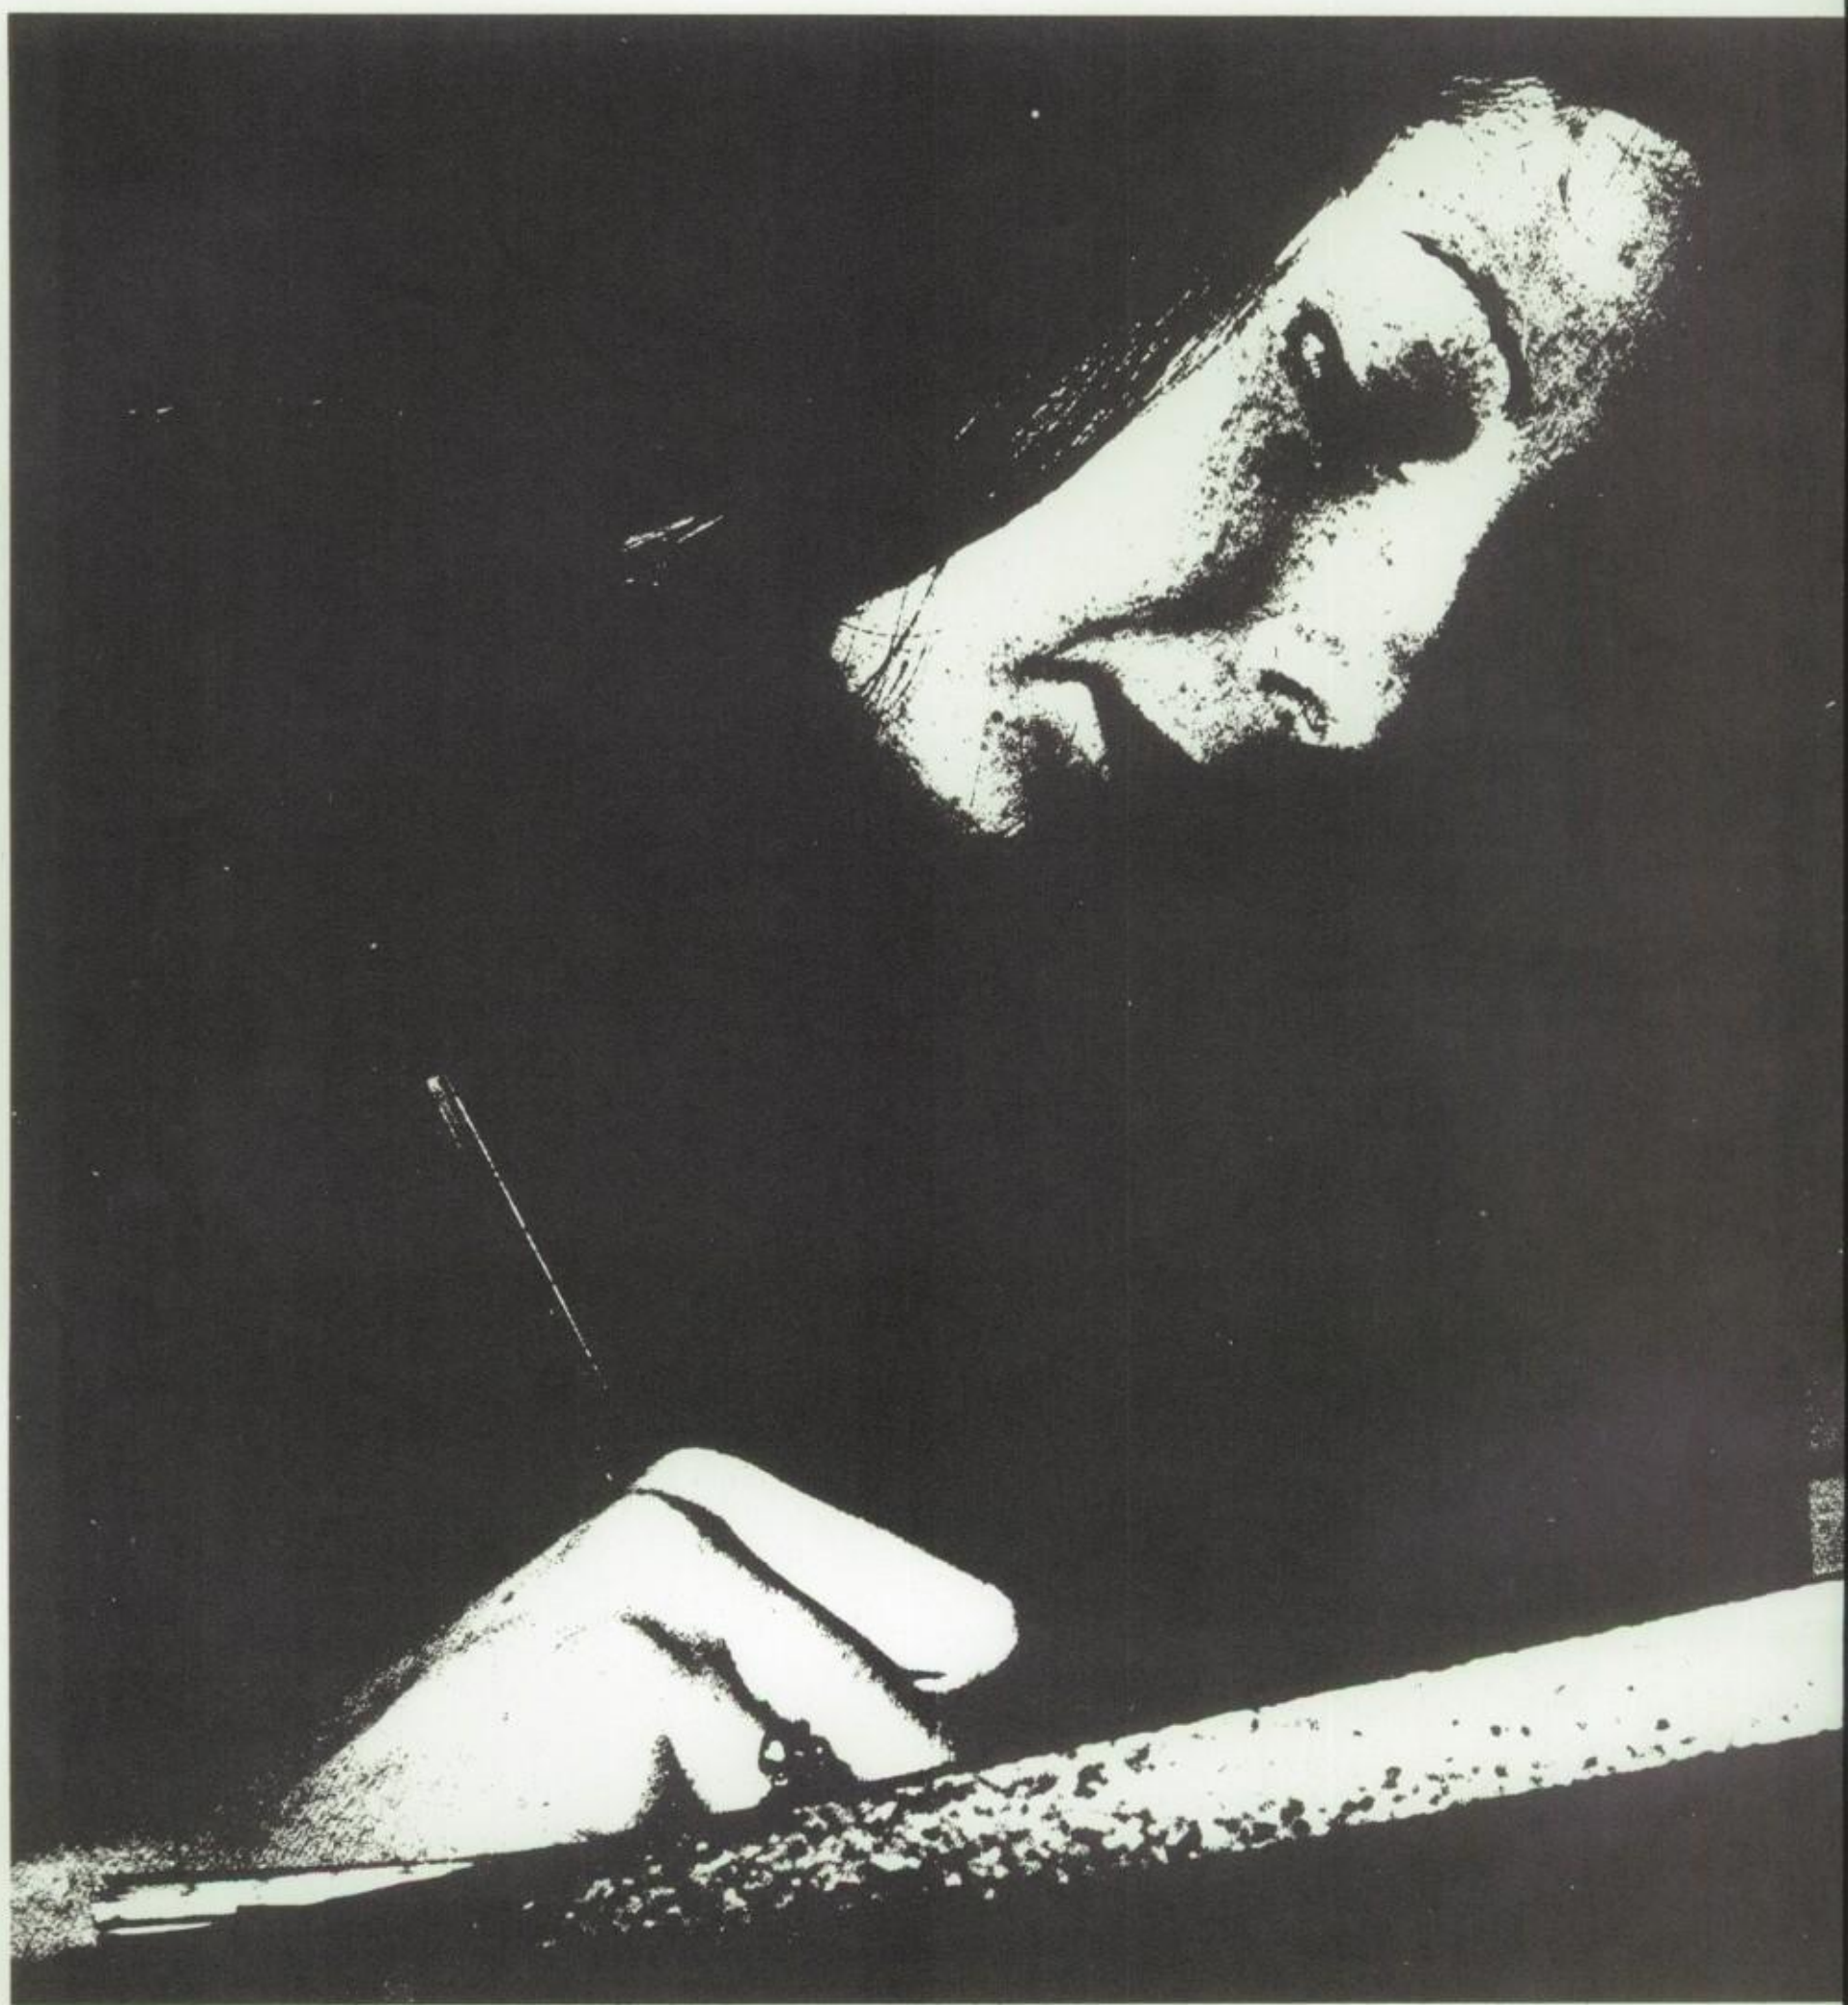

"We did it!" Jo Rogers exclaims to Holly Sanderson, after the 1974 commencement exercises. Mixed emotions of sadness, joy and hope are felt by all seniors.

Salutatorian Mike Ryan pins a red rose on Valedictorian Linda Wood as Joe Bunch watches in the background.

The Center Grove math department was busy teaching everybody to put two and two together.

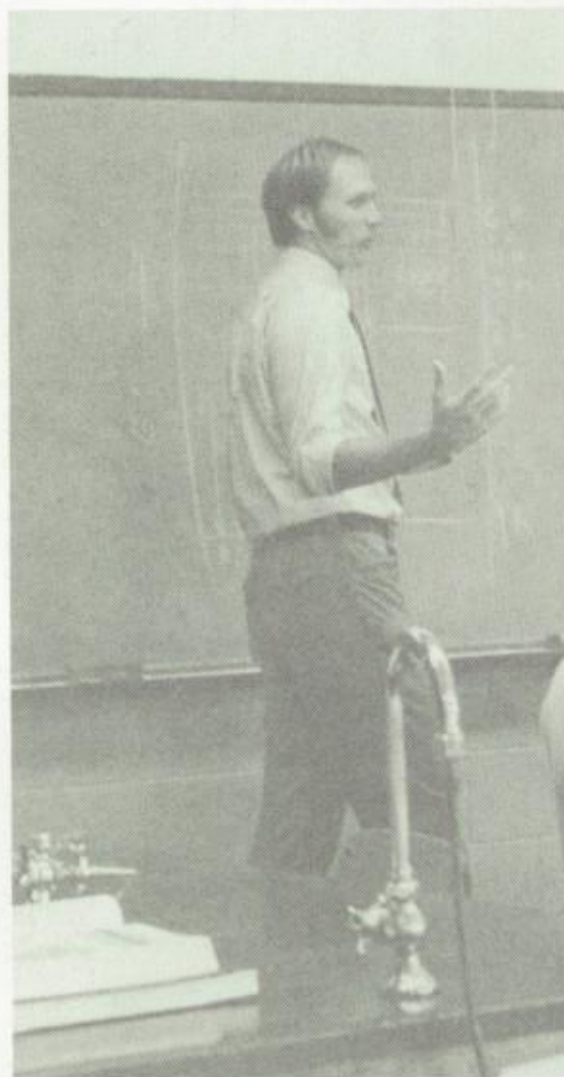

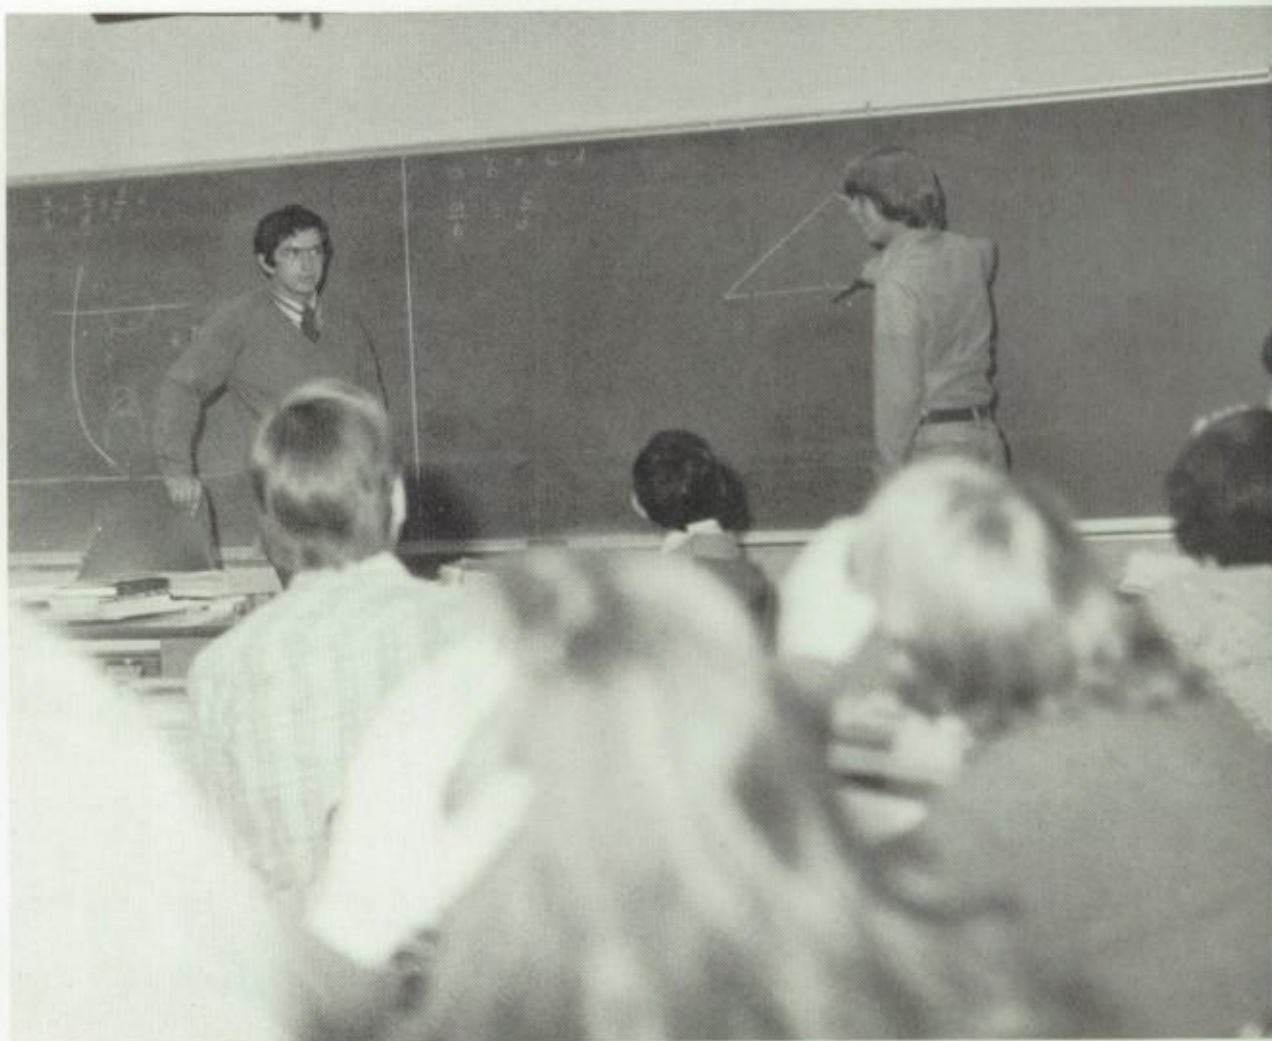

Math extended with three new courses added to the program, Introductory Algebra, Math IV and V.

Biology and chemistry labs were used extensively to answer the question: Why?

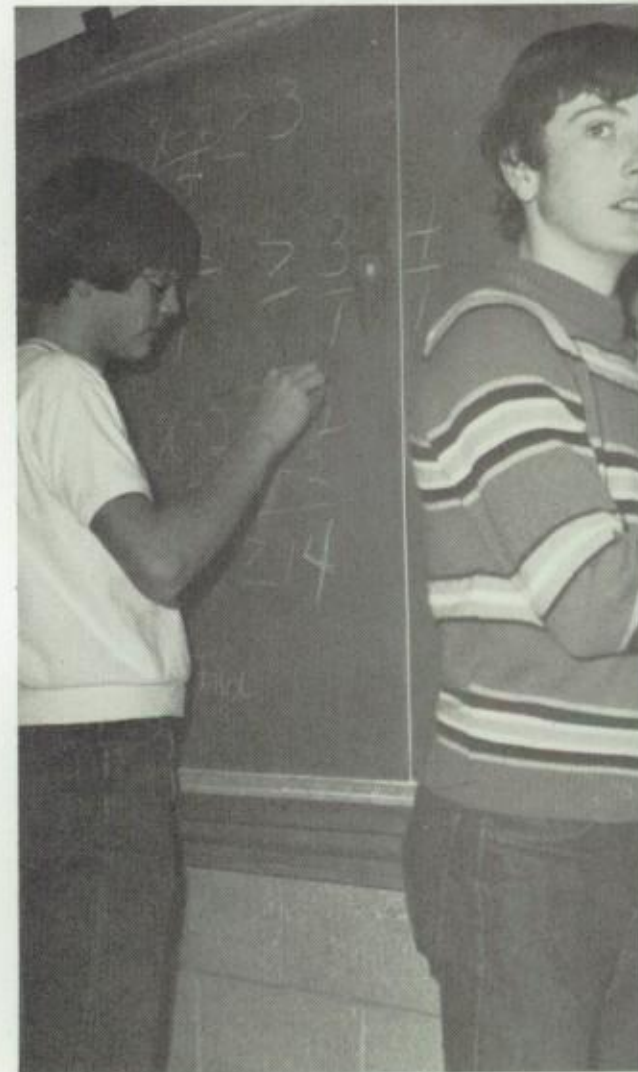

In physics, the students explored the technical aspects of the properties and laws of science.

Earth Science was offered for those students interested in geography.

Mr. Ralph Clingerman supervises Mark Dickhaus as he works out a proof on the board in Mr. Clingerman's geometry class. The other students watch carefully for mistakes.

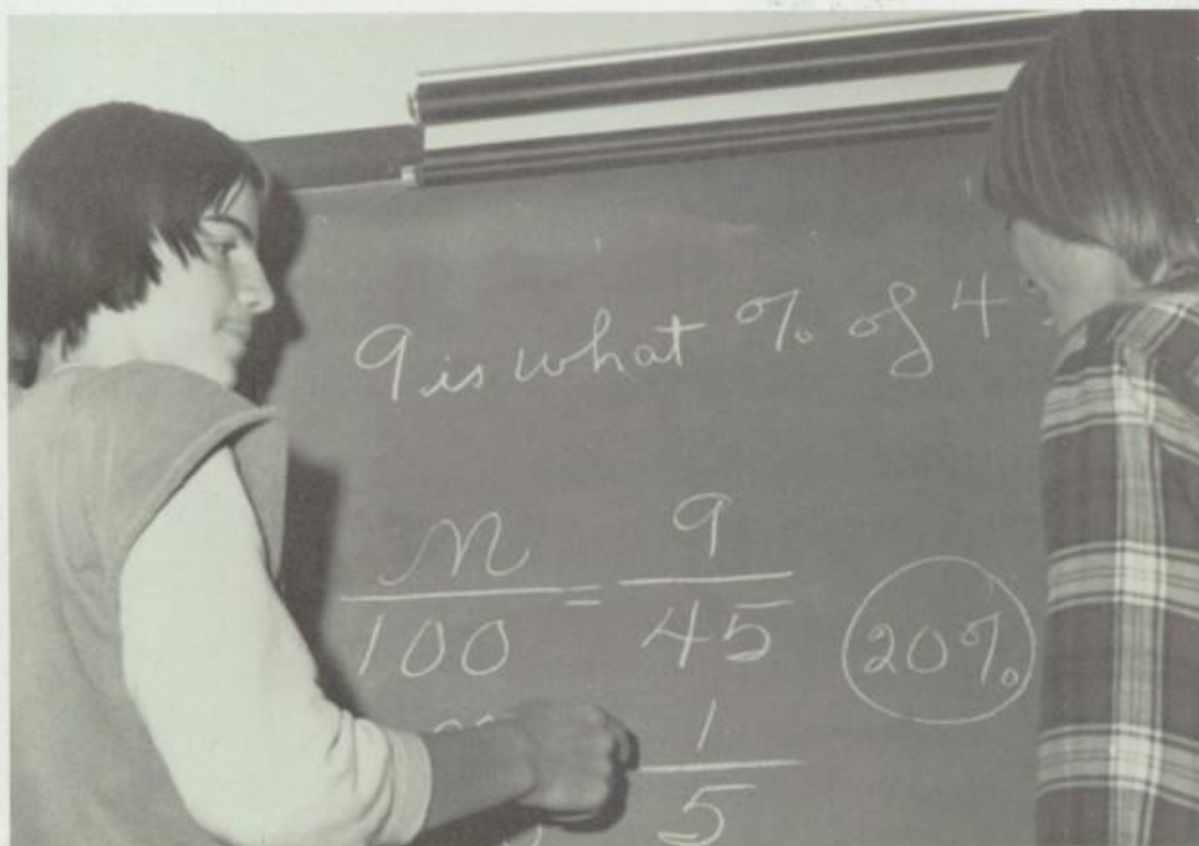

Mr. Howard Berliner teaches physics and chemistry through lectures and experiments.

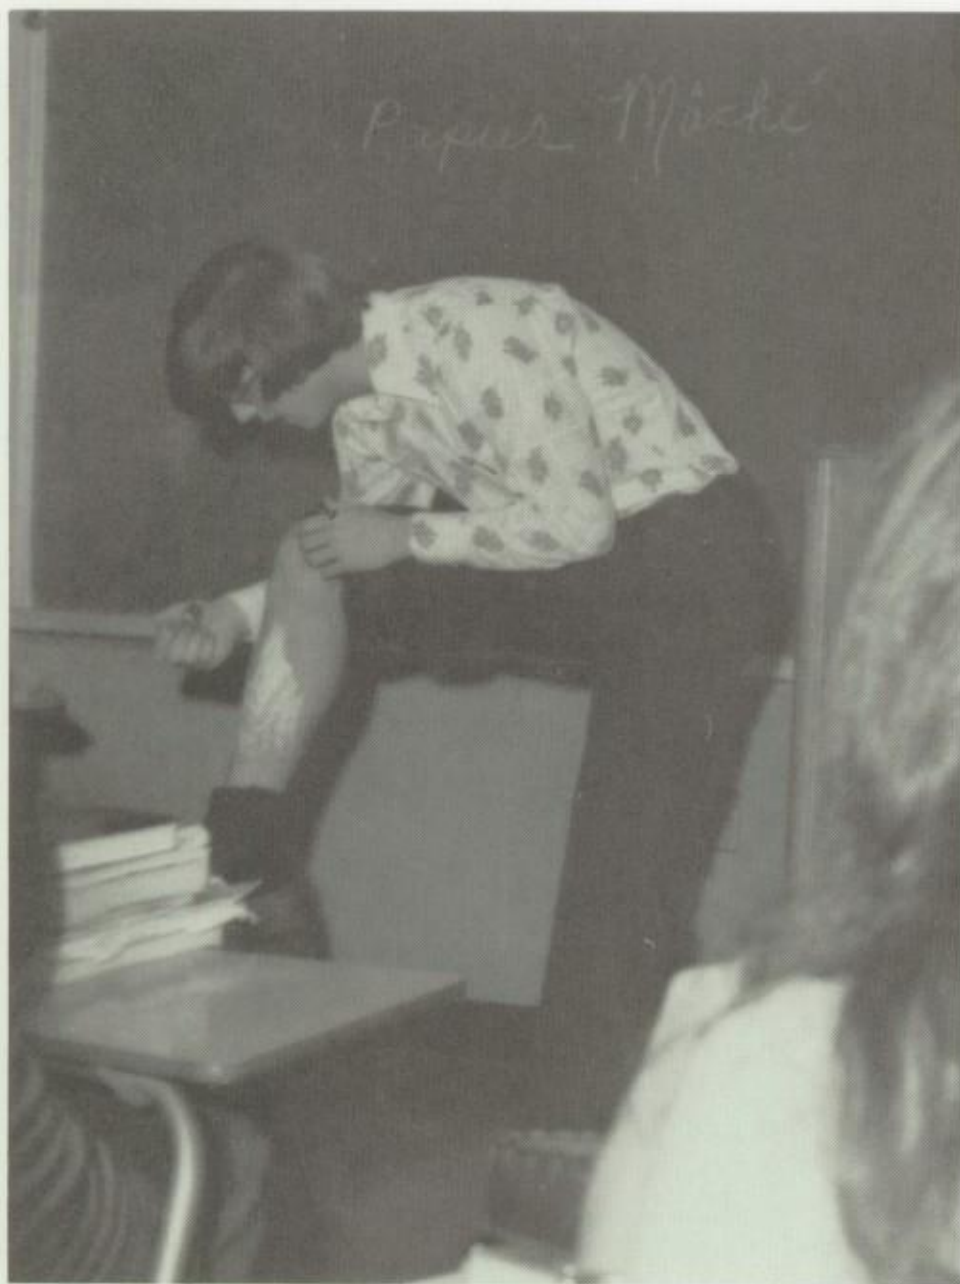

Freshman algebra students, Doug Norman and Jeff Ridge, work problems on the board.

Percentages prove to be real problems as Brad Irwin (right) discovered in Algebra I. Gary Gilmour tries to help Brad by working a problem on the board.

The fetal pig, shown here, is one of the many different anatomies that are studied in Mr. Richard Hogue's biology classes.

Despite giggles from the class, Greg Norman gives his rendition of a girl shaving her legs for his "how to" speech in Speech I.

Students in Mr. William Bridges' Bible class review their Bible passages for the next test. Classes in both the Old and New Testament were offered.

Mrs. Arnell Lysko gives assistance to sophomore Doug Thompkins in filling out a job application in Practical Writing class.

English Offers New Program

Teachers seemed to agree that the new English phase elective program far outweighs the old. And it seemed like students enjoyed English more.

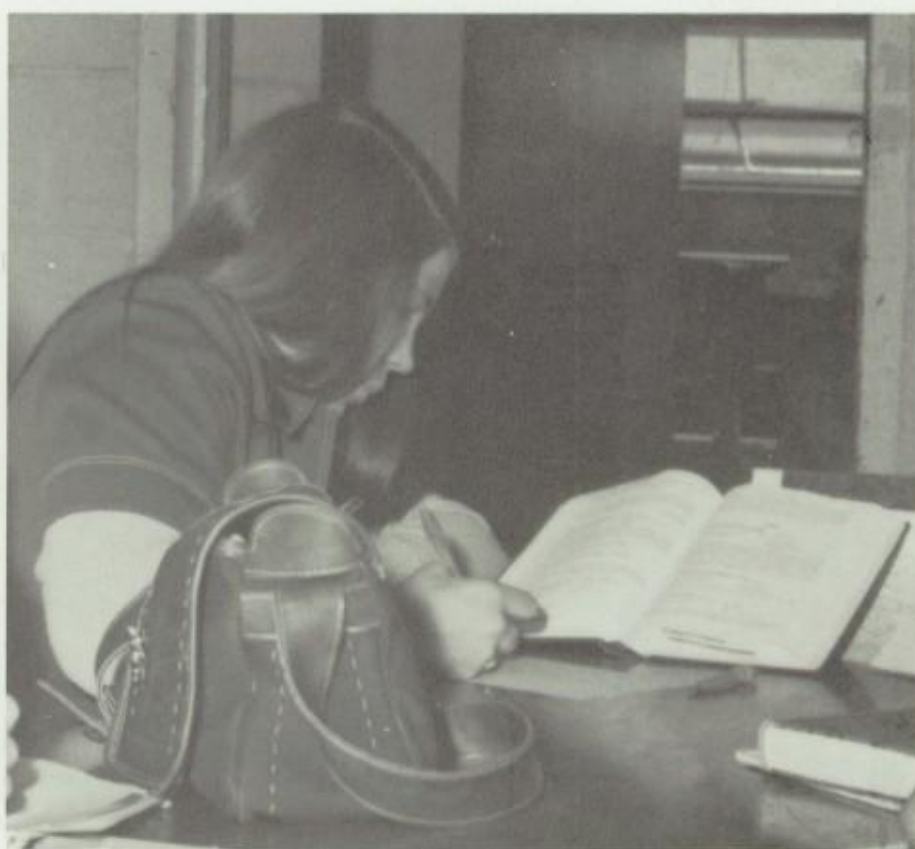

Each nine weeks different courses were offered. Mrs. Rosa Andrew and Mr. William Bridges were placed in charge of scheduling the program, which turned out to be a very tedious task.

The teachers also agreed that the students were making better grades and were more interested in what they were doing.

Sophomore Andy Wood, alias Pistol Pete, proves he's the fastest gun at CG in Drama I.

Making a book of her own, Joni Walters adds a picture for interest in Comp. 10. The students also study grammar and composition.

Mr. Roush takes his Research class to the library to give them a chance to gather information. Cheryl Neat takes notes for her outline.

Freshmen Re-enact War Trials

A new game and a mock trial were added to the list of activities done by the history department.

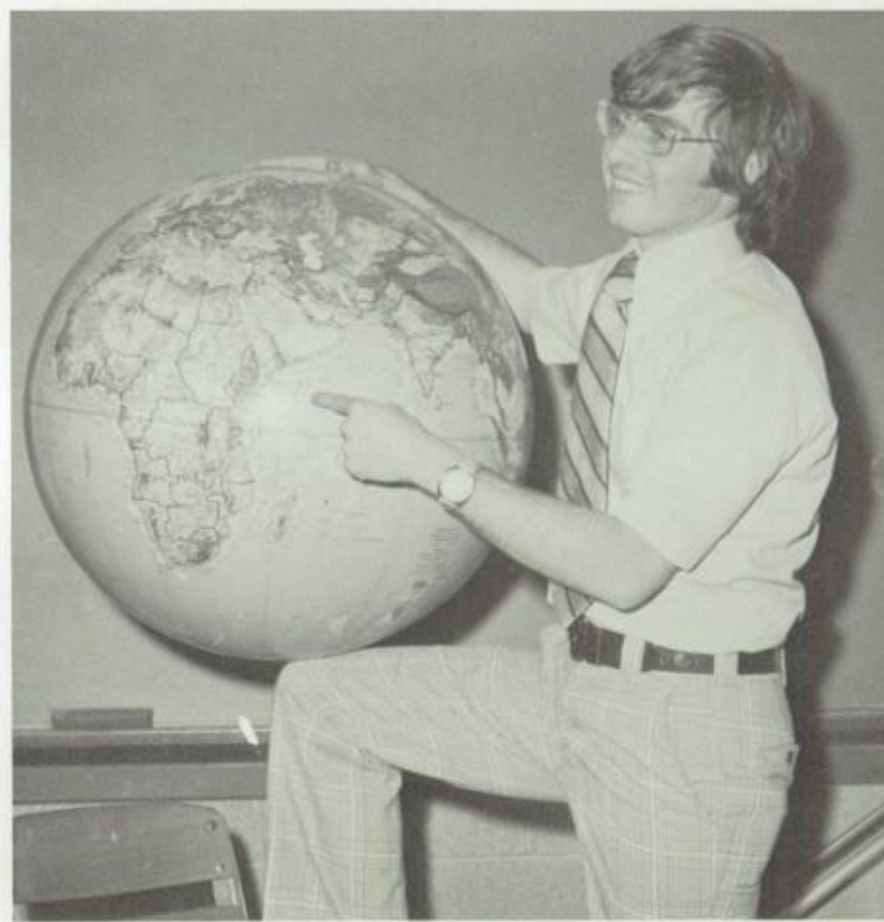

The game, Imperialism, added a new outlook to the Political Geography classes of Mr. David Marshall. He said, "It deals with getting the students involved with diplomacy and world independence."

After a week of thorough research, the students of Mr. Jerry Dunn's history classes re-enacted the Nuremburg War Trials.

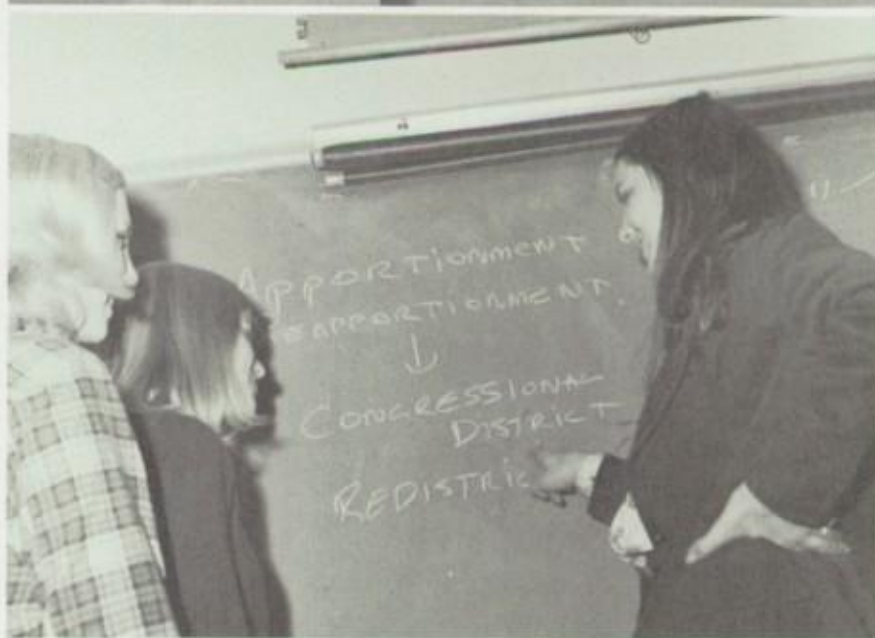

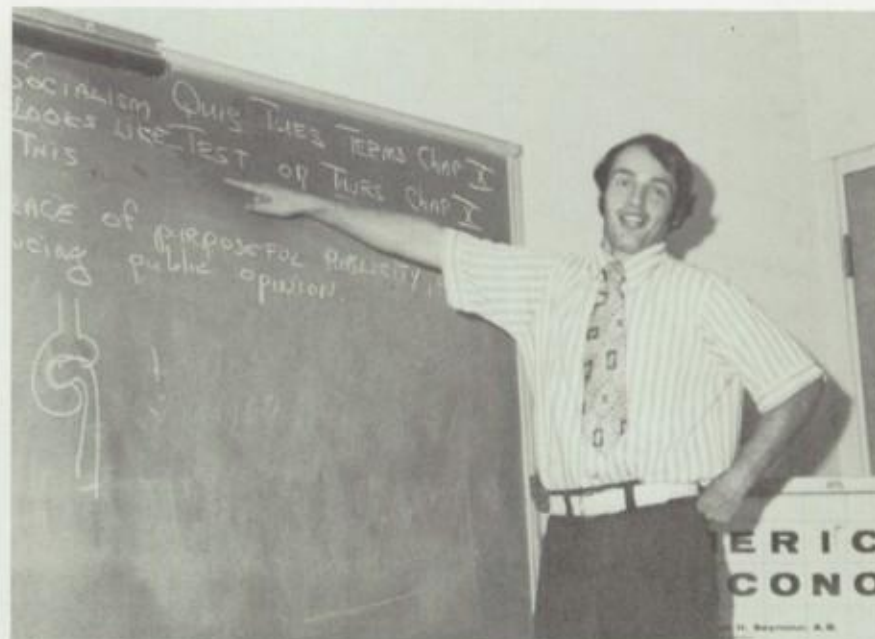

Supply and demand poses interesting problems in Mr. Marshall's economics class.

Kevin Holtsclaw questions Gene Sodrel in the re-enactment of the Nuremburg War Trials in Mr. Dunn's freshman world history class.

"He's got the whole world in his hands." Mr. Tom Brogan, a new member of the faculty, points out one of many countries studied in geography.

The government chalkboard comes in handy for Mr. Aldorisio, Randy Surface and Paula Harris, Shelley Summit, and Becky Bennett.

Bulletin boards add credibility to many subjects. Christy Henderson checks out a map in Mrs. Jean Robertson's history class.

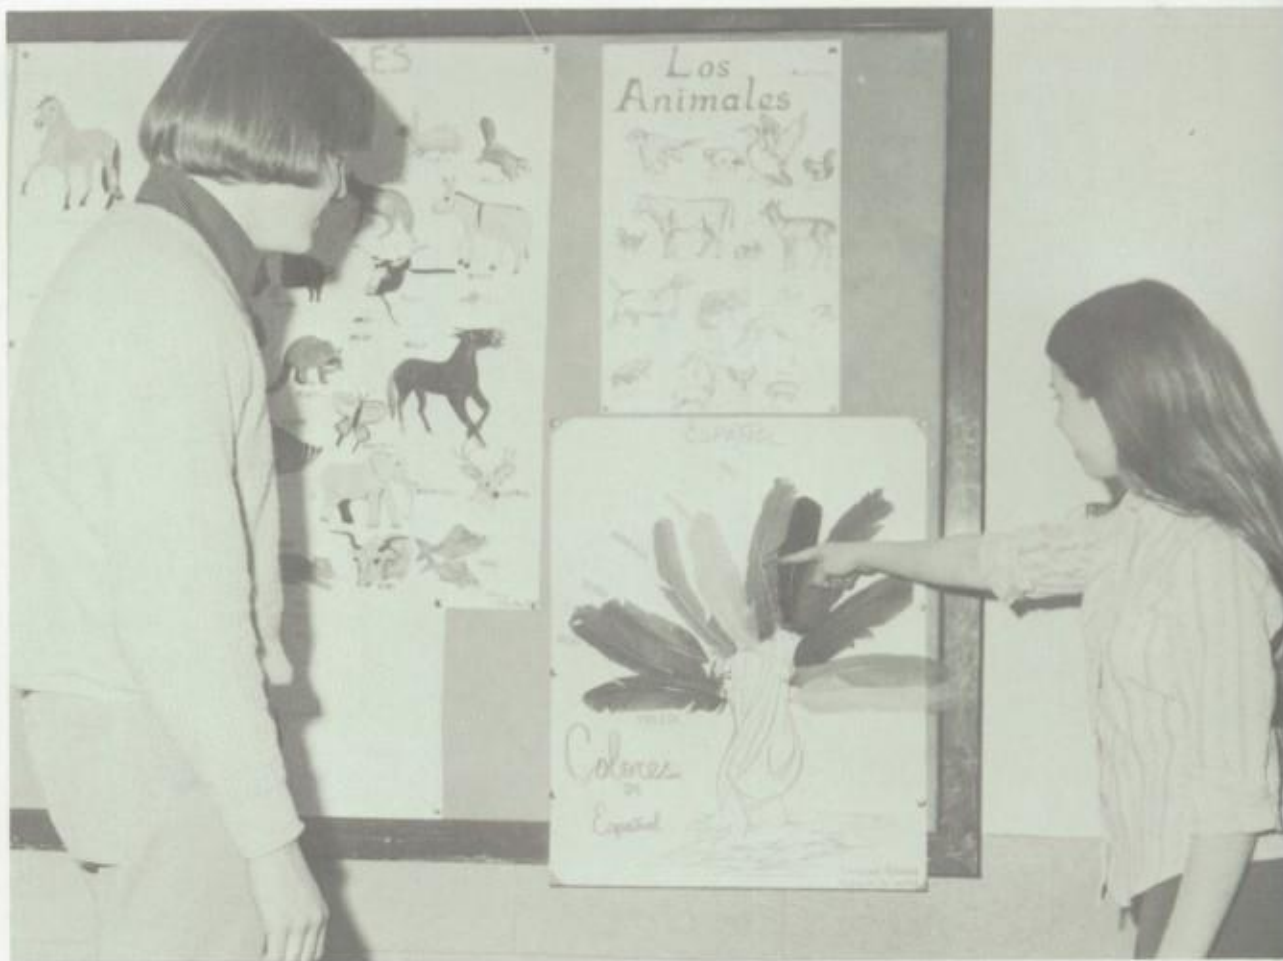

Eiffel Tower Day Comes To CG

Jour de la Tour—Eiffel Tower Day, April 16, was French Day for all French students. This eventful day was celebrated by French classes by French I having a breakfast, French II a luncheon, and French IV and V a dinner. All these students must speak French all day.

Mrs. Janet Brown's classes learned a French card game called "Mille Borne" and many popular French songs.

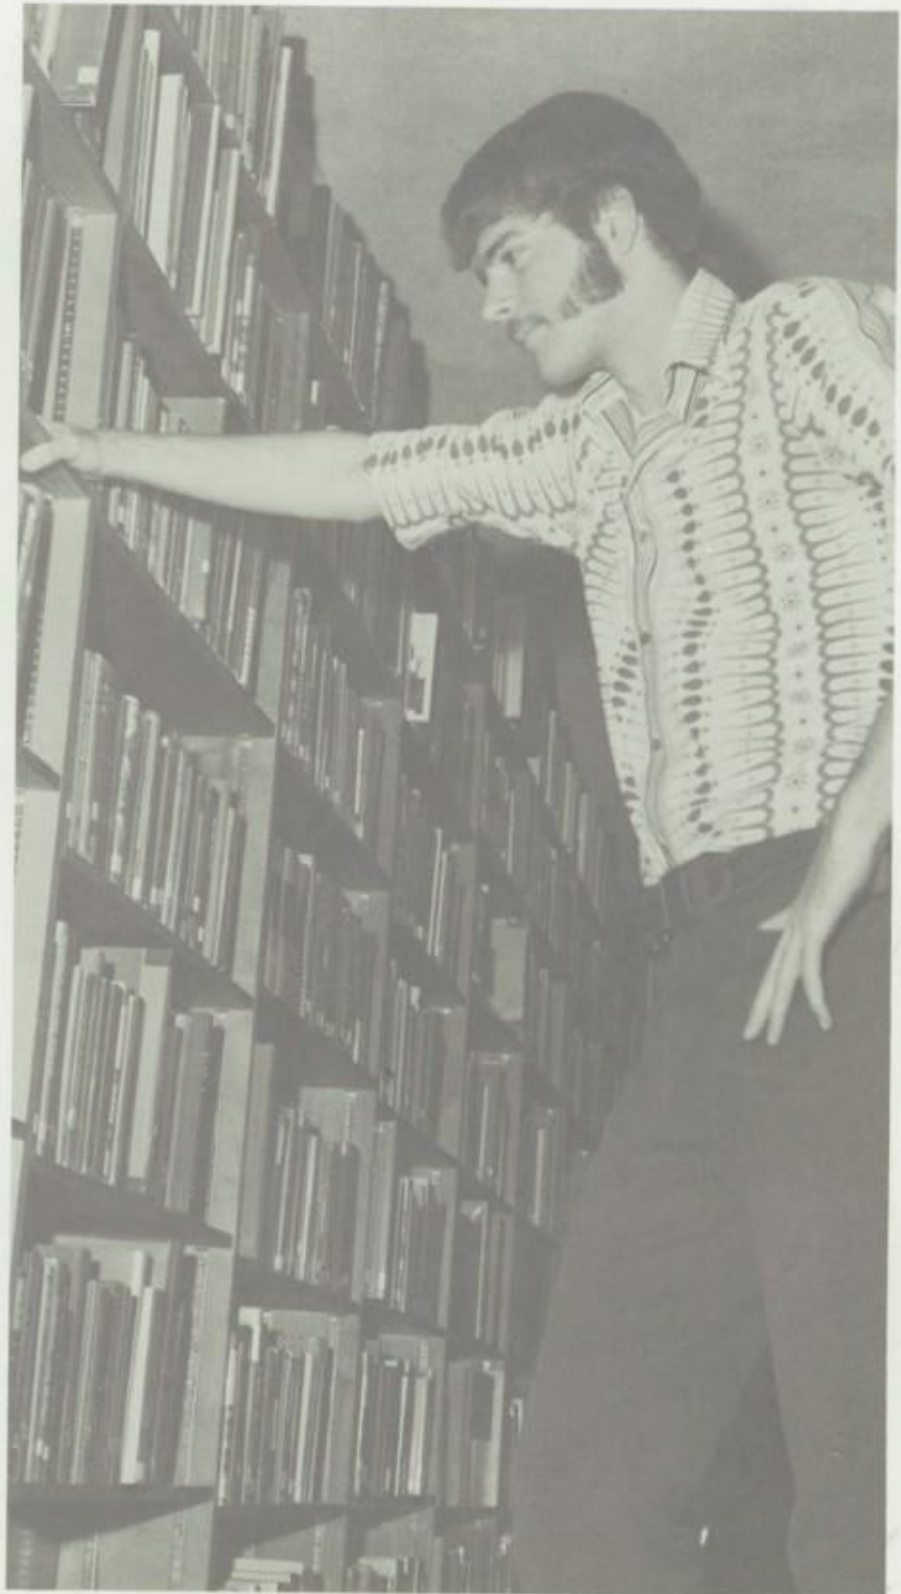

Spanish students saw two new faces in their classes this year: Mrs. Mercedes Portilla, the new Spanish teacher from Cuba, and Rodrigo Barreto, an exchange student from Paraguay, South America. They both became very fond of CG.

Second-year Spanish student Cathy Ryburn shows Mark Calvert her class project.

Filling their plates at a French luncheon prepared by a Home Ec. class, are French III students Ken Dyer, Mrs. Janet Brown, the teacher, Provie Sansone and Susan Roller.

Tom Krukemeier takes a look at the new car buys in one of the many magazines available in the Center Gove High School library.

Taking advantage of study hall time Frank Pangallo hunts for a book in the library.

Library worker, Sherrie Goode, puts to good use a microfilm machine for references.

Mrs. Rosa Andrew questions Patty Fowler and Kathy Eckart in her Latin class.

PE Offers Lots Of Activities

The physical education department of C.G. consisted of many various activities for boys and girls alike. Everything from basketball, bowling, volleyball, archery competition and inter-squad wrestling matches was offered.

A 1974 Caprice was used by the driver's ed. classes to learn how to drive and the responsibility of driving an automobile.

The health classes, many of which were taught in the auditorium, were taught through the many devices available at Center Grove, such as overhead projectors, films and filmstrips, and various charts and diagrams.

De Harrington and Frankie Turner attempt to block Vicky Jones while practicing to be future varsity basketball players in Girls' Physical Education Class.

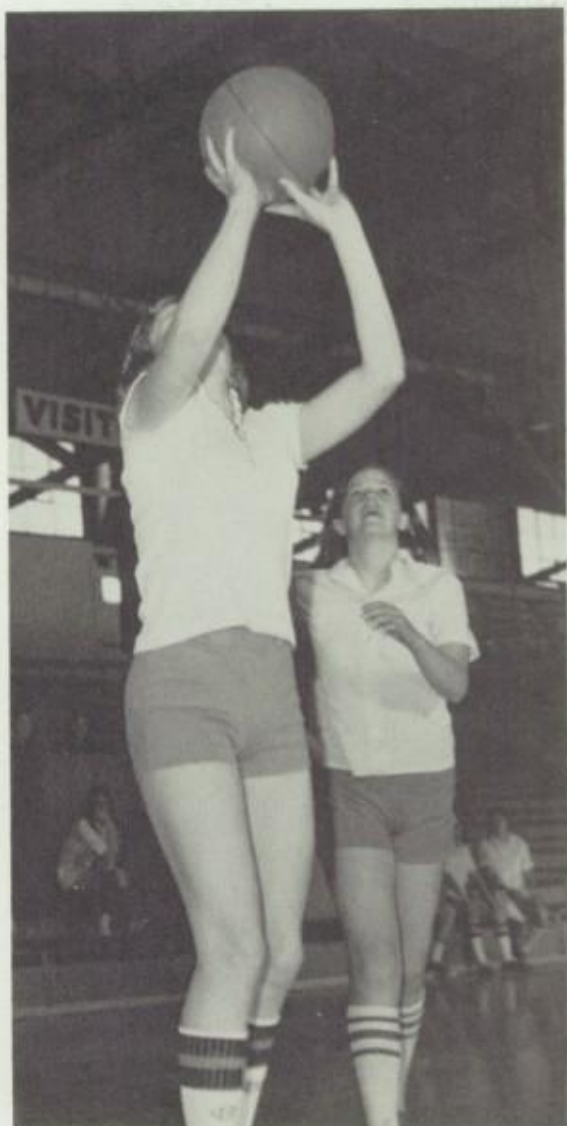

On the slippery snow-covered parking lot, junior Laurie Ryan demonstrates her driving abilities (?) and some of the techniques she learned in her summer drivers' education class during summer school.

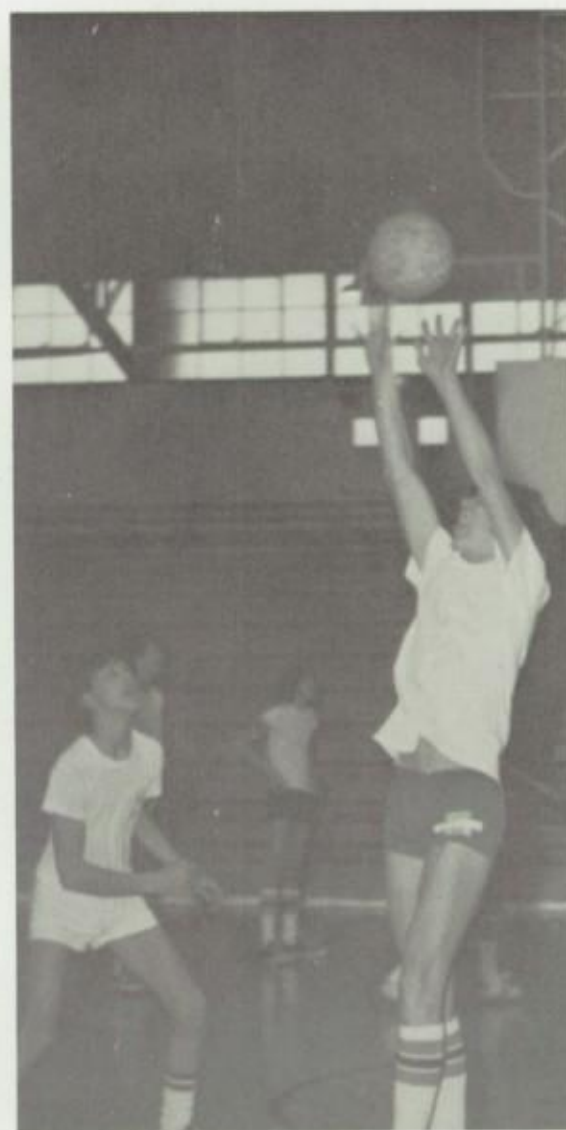

Kevin Holtsclaw, Rick Hinesley, Mike Thompson, David Berzins warm-up for P.E.

Danita Poynter gives a few pointers on shooting free throws to Janice Parish in P.E.

John Tinkle steps to help Bert Hussung while playing volleyball in physical education.

A life-size model of the human body helps Duane Polley, Bob Juergensen and David Kemp to better understand its functions in their health class.

"Mmm . . . good" think Vicki Jones, Frankie Turner and Barbara Anhaeuser.

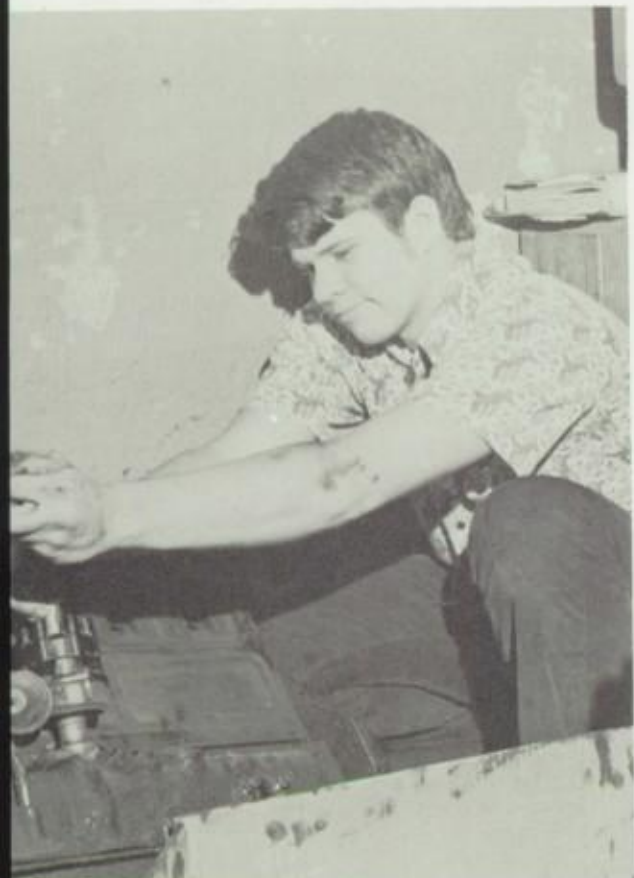

Taking advantage of a nice spring day, Michelle Witt works diligently sanding an old table to refinish for Home Ec. III.

Judy Hacker and Lee Coffman check the Poulet Saute a' la Bordelaise, a French dish, prepared for French III and IV classes.

Bill Wilson puts a distributor cap on an engine block in Small Engine Repairs.

Dwight Baxter draws up house plans for an assignment in Architectural Drawing.

A Taste Of Europe

Japanese, Chinese, French, Italian and Mexican; these are a few of the different types of foods and customs studied in Home Ec. Students also learned to varnish and upholster furniture, sew, and some planned their future weddings.

Industrial arts classes were offered in mechanical drawing, architectural drawing, woodworking and metals, and general industrial arts.

Mike Newell and David Lee, during shop class, adjust the saw for cutting plywood.

A new paper mache Trojan guards the halls. It was made by Kevin Crouch and John Caporale in Mrs. Shirley Despot's Art IV class.

Senior Curt Voiles applies the finishing touches to his colorful painting known as Funny Face in Mrs. Shirley Despot's Art IV class.

Julie Seay carefully paints her paper mache project of a toucan perched on a tree limb, which is so lifelike that it appears real.

New Trojan Decorates Halls

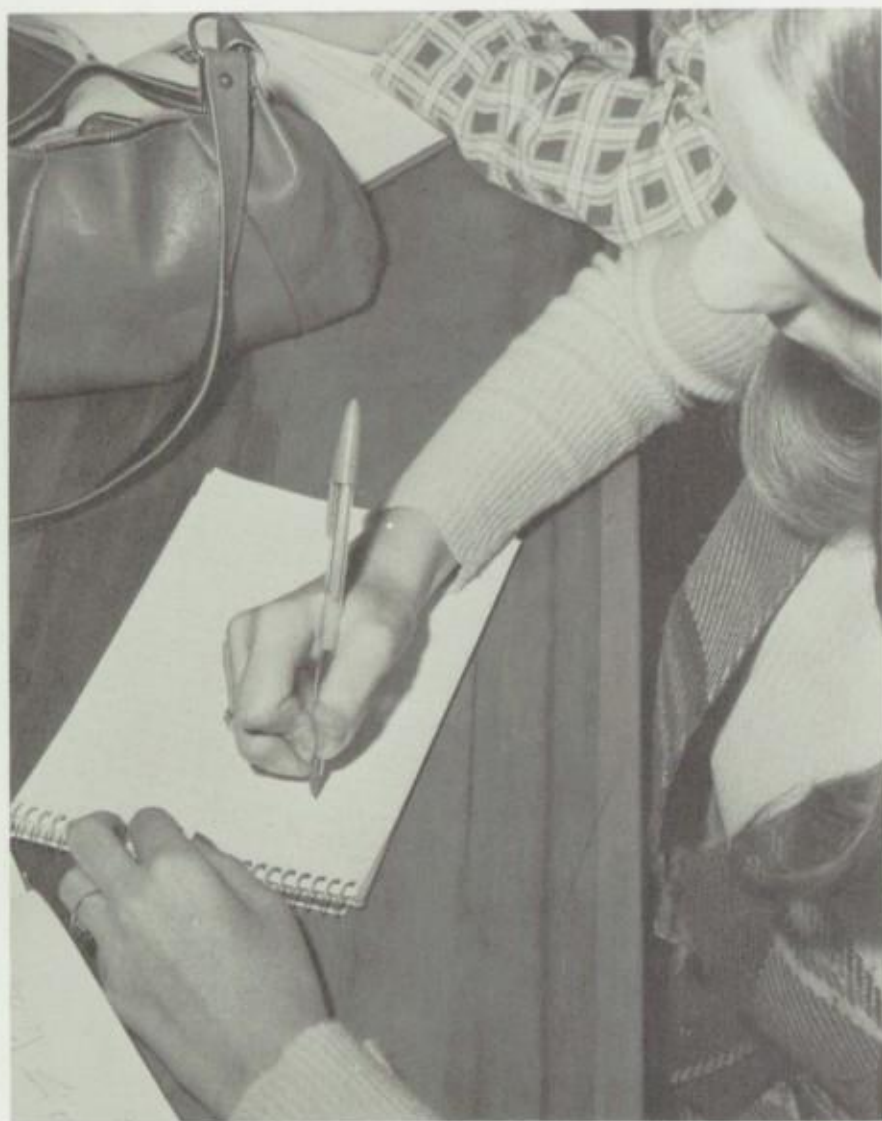

A new Trojan with great spirit came about this year. He stood with dignity in CG's foyer during basketball season. He probably could have given Big John some trouble under the basket if he could move. But, since he's only paper-mache . . .

Kevin Crouch and John Caporale contributed the new mascot to CG in 1974. It is only one of the many projects done in Mrs. Shirley Despot's art classes.

Business English was added to the business courses offered at CG. The one-semester course includes such things as writing business letters, improving vocabulary and learning to spell correctly. Other business courses offered were typing, shorthand, business machines and general business.

Adding figures in business machines shows Alisa Ragsdale she needs finger muscles.

Senior Loretta Cox practices copying shorthand which will help her take faster notes. Mrs. Anne Wolfred teaches Shorthand I and II.

Click, click, click . . . Terri Cramer, a new student from Wisconsin, tries her hands at typing in Mrs. Anne Wolfred's Typing II class.

Central 9 Goes Into Second Year

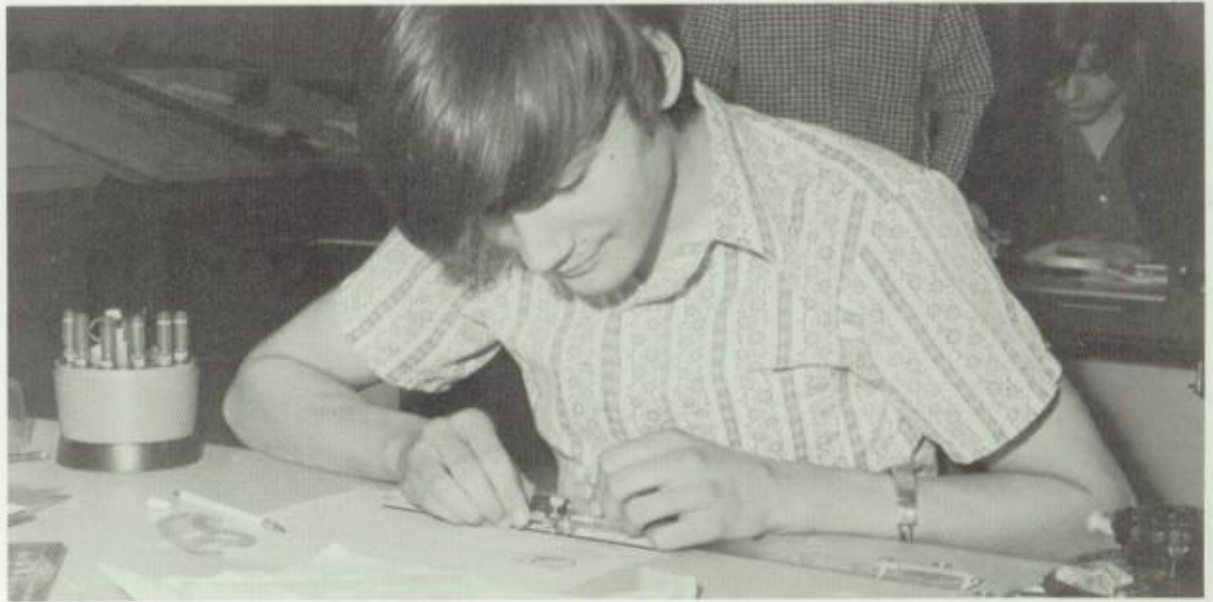

Central 9 Vocational Training School went into its second year and plans were to "keep on truckin'".

Classes were offered in four different categories: trade and industry occupations, horticulture, business and home economics occupations.

The school is centered around 10 different area high schools where the students attend half a day and Central 9 the other half.

The benefits of Central 9 are many. Julie Baker stated, "I really enjoy going there. It's not like you're attending school."

Mike Stroud tries his hand at creating a new computer in his Mechanical Drafting class at Central 9. The class also shows the building of office structures and different manufactured items.

Bill Wilson cleans up after his Auto Mechanics class. A person can get pretty dirty taking apart cars and putting them back together.

In Auto Body class at Central 9, David Jennings learns to paint cars and trucks. Mr. George Mack also teaches the boys to repair dents.

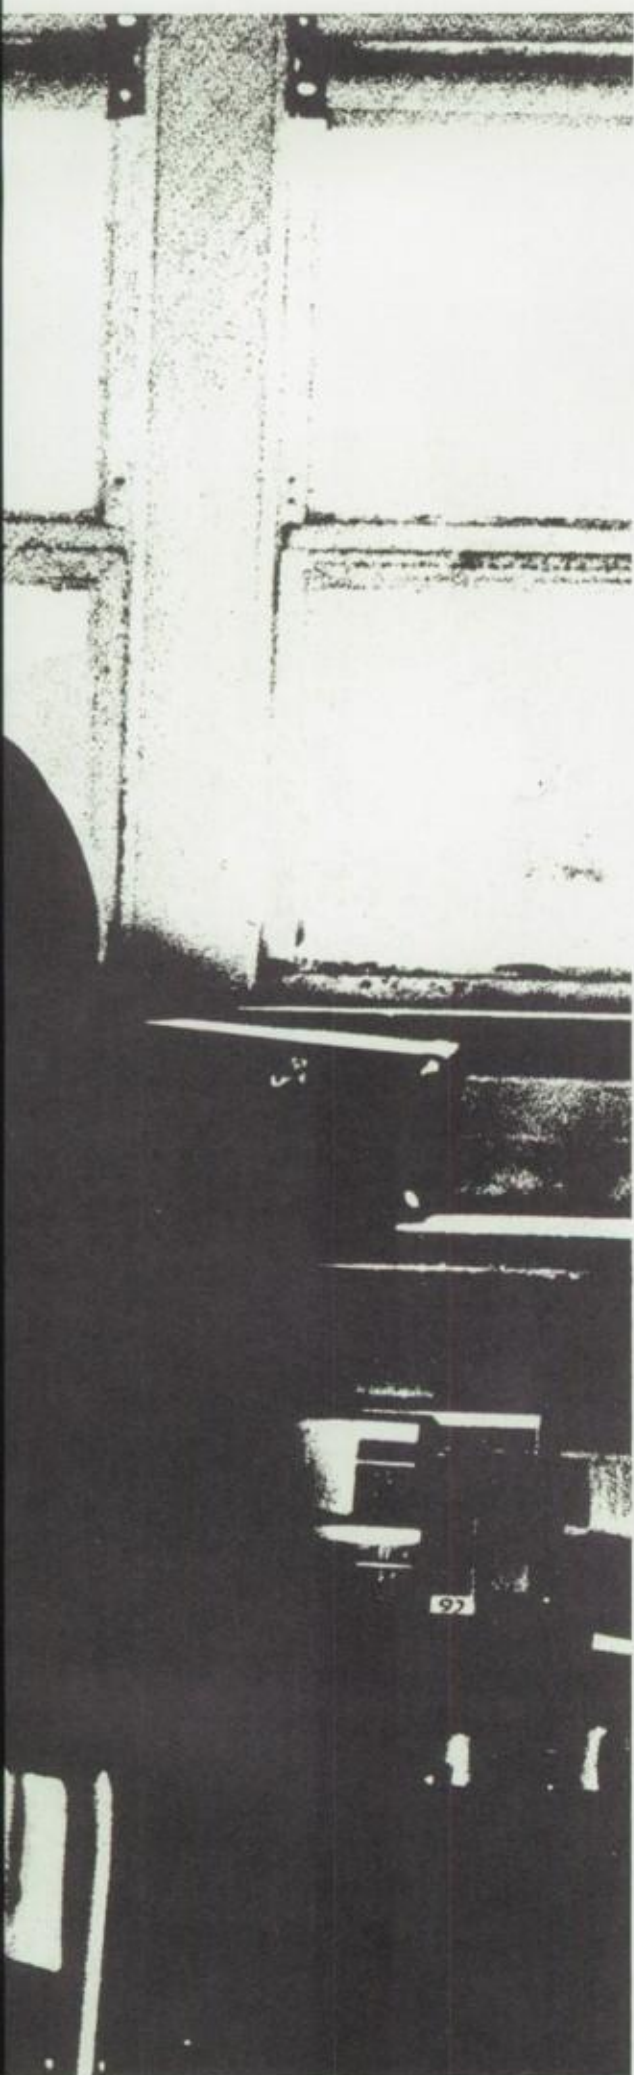

The parts of a lawn mower are one of the many different things studied in Horticulture by Randy Dresslar, Steve Kanter and Scott Sumner.

Office Lab supplies girls with the skills required in secretarial jobs. Debbie Berzins works in Central 9's office as part of the class.

ACTIVITIES ACTIVITIES ACTIVITIES ACTIVITIES

“ . . . working through organizations to serve our community.”

The band program included several combined concerts featuring the Senior Symphonic, Concert and Junior High Bands.

"One . . . two . . . ready . . . play!" says Mr. Meurer as the Pep Band prepares to play during halftime at a home basketball game. There are 52 students who volunteer their time for Pep Band.

Bands Give Concerts

The C.G. bands have many functions other than being one half of the total music program.

The bands gave combined concerts throughout the year and participated in the Indiana School Music Association band contest at Ben Davis in Group II rating.

The Pep Band played at the home basketball games and pep sessions.

Marching too is a part of being a bandsman. The Marching Band placed second at Charleston and was judged in the top third at the Indiana State Fair competition.

Come blow your horn with the french horn section of the Senior High Symphonic Band.

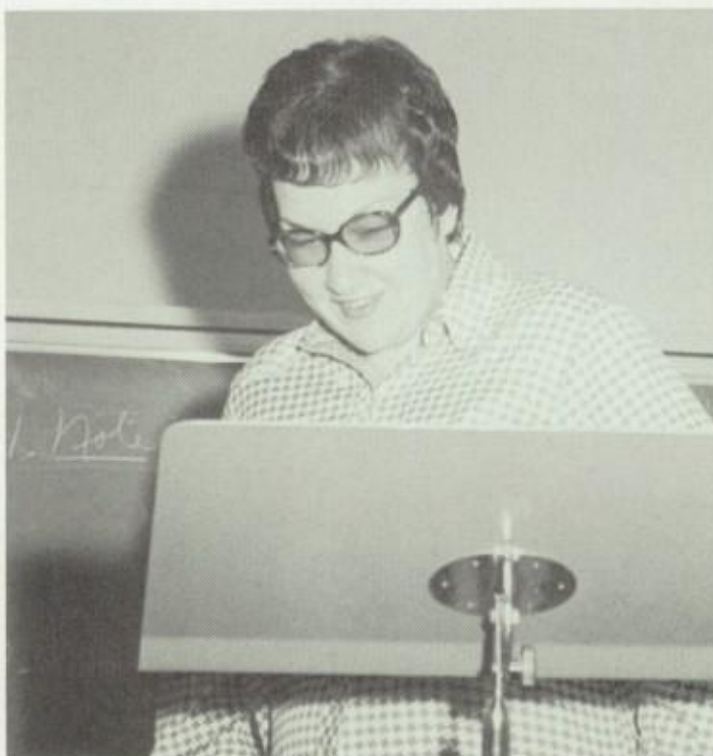

CG Goes Broadway

"Finian's Rainbow," CG's first musical, was the biggest highlight of the year for the choral department, when they combined talents with the school's drama department.

Two other firsts were among activities of Debtone and Swing Mates—an old-fashioned Christmas smorgasbord and a three-day tour to Columbus, Ohio.

"Godspell" and Other Show Tunes was the theme of the spring concert.

Mrs. Judith Meeks, director of the high school choirs, addresses her class on the basics of proper voice.

Mark Jackson appears to be helping the CG roundballers on to another exciting victory. He was just one of the many boosters that showed their enthusiasm by attending games and cheering. Later in the season the girls Booster Club went all out again this year with new outfits.

CG Artists Join Club Program

Although its membership was small, the new Art Club was active.

Members displayed and sold art projects at home basketball games. The club also had an art exhibit in the hall during the spring musical.

Several students attended workshops after school, getting help from Mrs. Shirley Despot.

Student Council presented a new senior activity award this year and produced the talent show.

According to Mr. Walter Aldoriso, the group's sponsor, the council faced a major problem of trying to arouse students from apathy to involvement.

Members of the Office Education Association heard speakers from various companies talk on careers in business.

Employment Service Center of Indianapolis representative Mrs. Bockel talks to Linda Massey, Pat Witty and Jacque Bird, OEA members, about opportunities in the business field.

The Art Club exhibits projects outside the auditorium during "Finian's Rainbow."

"April Showers Bring May Flowers" is the theme of the April calendar that the Sunshine Society decorated on the hall bulletin board.

Sunshine

Big, Busy

With a combined membership of about 200, the high school and freshman Sunshine Society, a service organization, is one of the largest and most active clubs at school.

The high school girls made fruit baskets at Thanksgiving to distribute to shut-ins in the community. At Christmas they brought in gifts which were delivered to Muscatatuk State Hospital patients.

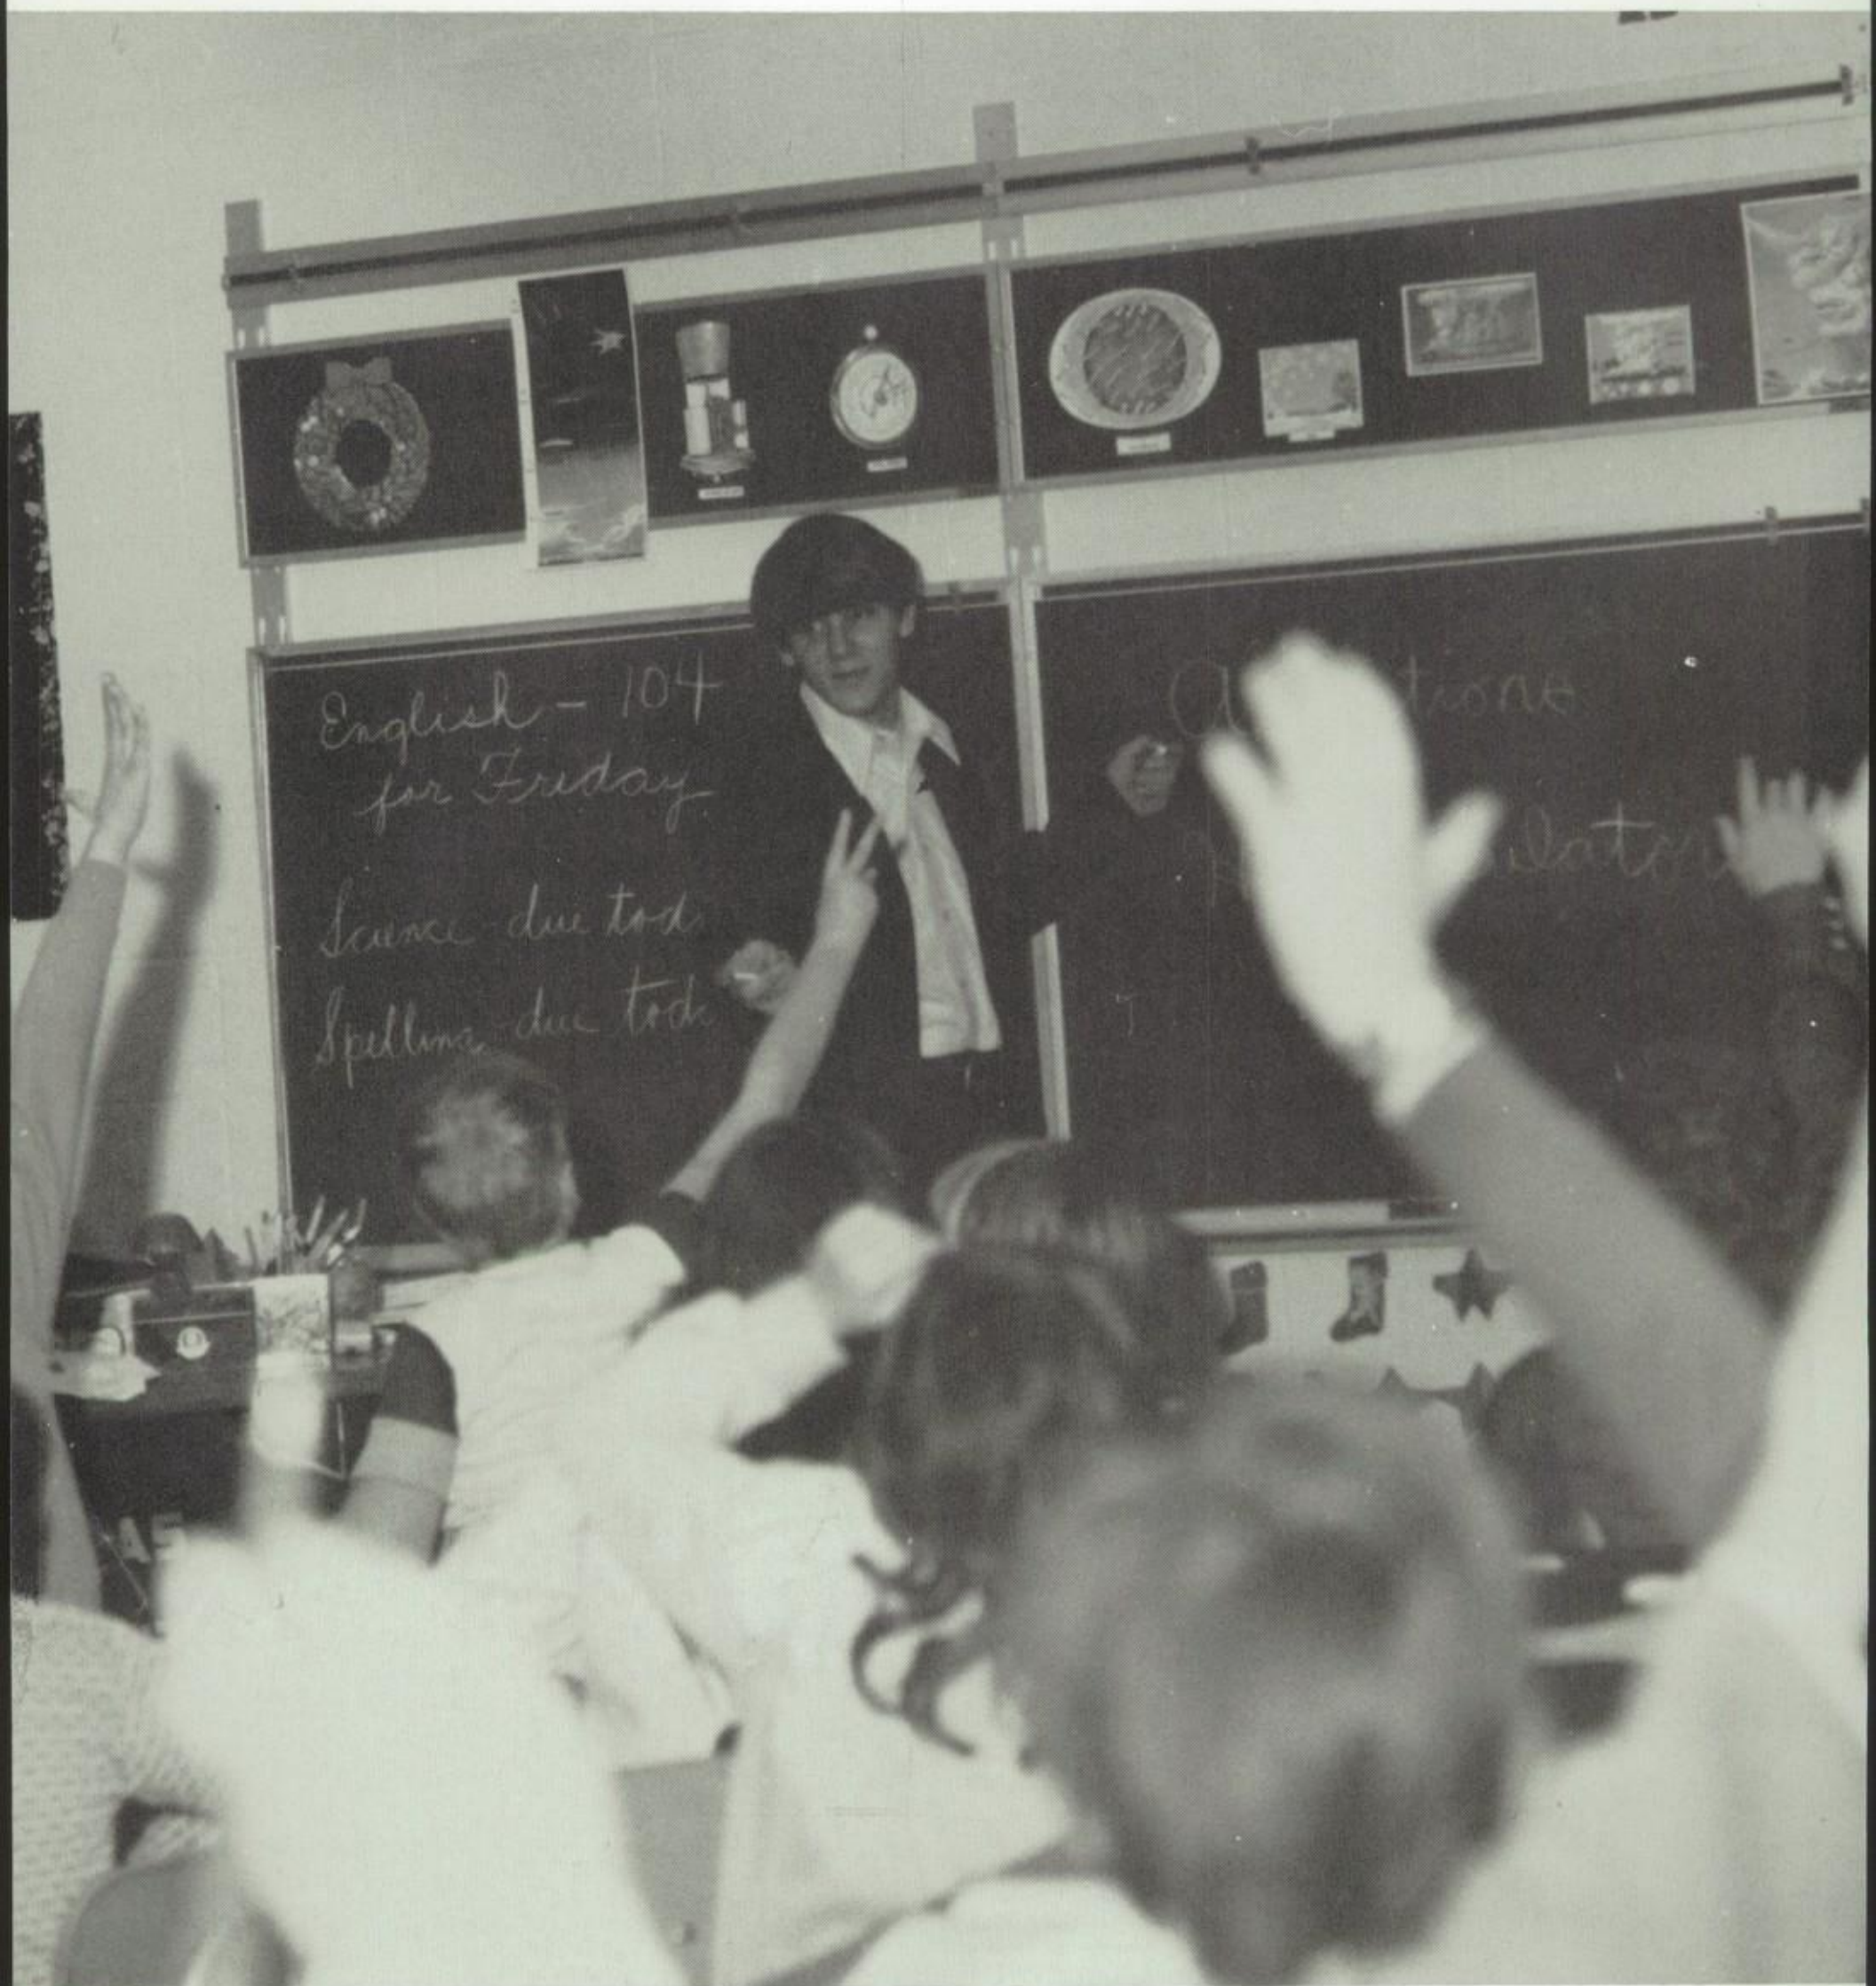

High school faculty members enjoyed "goodies" made by the girls and put in the teachers lounge every Wednesday all year.

Sunshine donated $100 to the Riley Fund and installed officers at the spring Mother-Daughter Banquet.

In their first year, the freshman Sunshine girls collected food for the Mary Rigg Community Center and had a slumber party.

Teaching who taught classes in the Center Grove Elementary School. Robin had the experience of teaching science and physical education.

Pupils Try Teaching

Future Teachers of America provides its members a chance to decide whether they'd like to be teachers.

For 17 that involved Exploratory Teaching class.

FTA observed Education Week in October by making it Teacher Appreciation Week at Center Grove.

Mr. John Steed was disappointed in his Chess Club's 1-5-1 record this year. They won over Whiteland Middle School and lost to Greenwood, Whiteland High School, Decatur Central and Indian Creek.

They tied in the first Triple Dual with Whiteland Middle and Whiteland High Schools. They lost the second to Whiteland Middle and Greenwood.

The team took second in the Individual Tourney. Sponsors were Mr. Steed and Mr. Ralph Clingerman.

staffs being fairly new Ms.
Schenck said, "We'll just have to “ . . . competing in athletics . . . ”

Assistant Coach Walt Aldorizio has a few words to say to lineman Paul Logsdon at the Franklin game.

Last Time For Coach

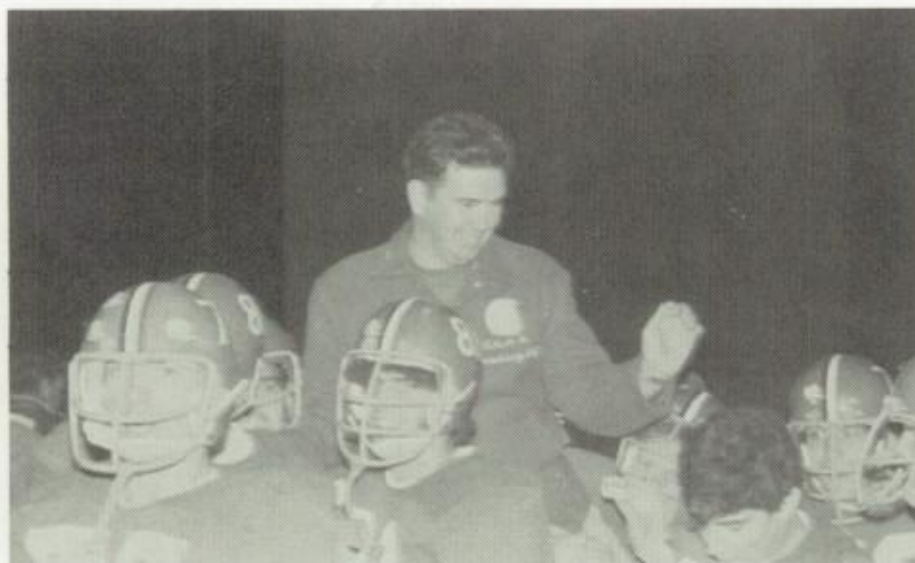

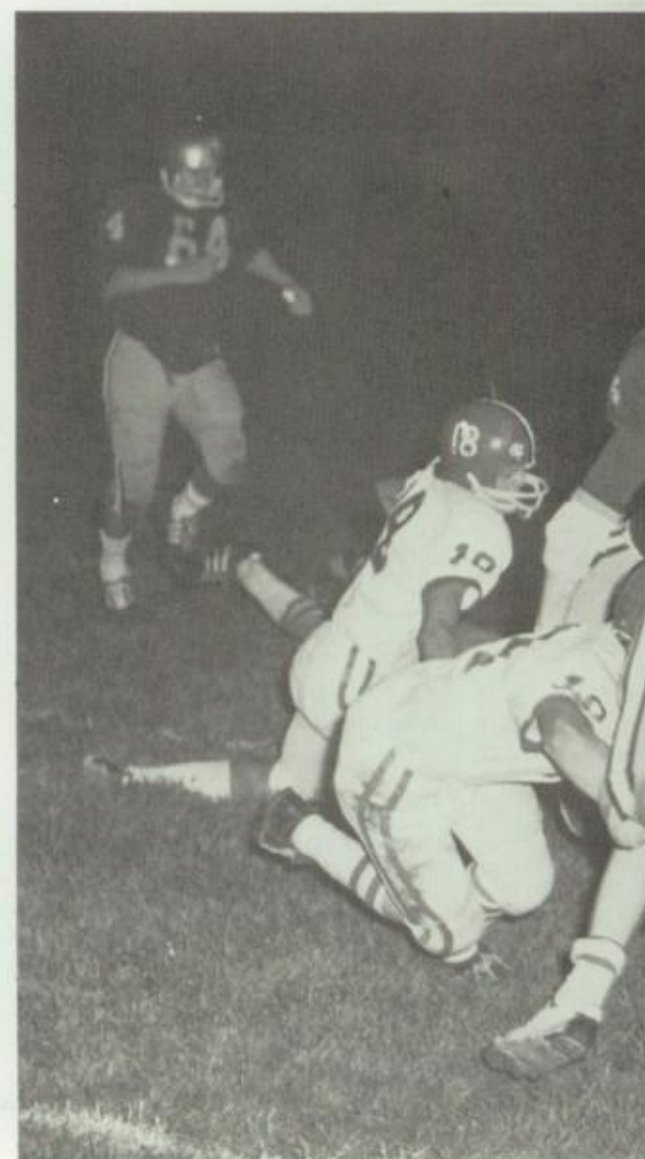

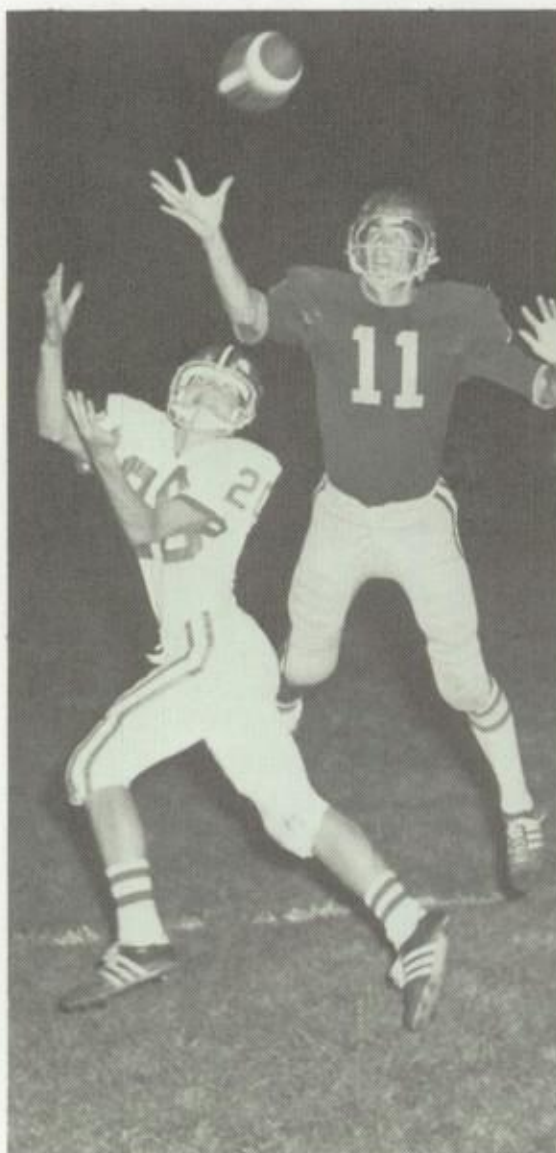

Coach John Clements rounded up his five-year head coaching job this year with a 3-7 record. He will remain at CG as athletic director.

The Trojans had three games in overtime, one of which they won. It was against Mooresville in the Homecoming game, 29-28. Steve Owen booted the game-winning point.

At the fall sports banquet numerous players were honored for their efforts during the season.

Terry Hunter received Most Valuable Player. Grayling Shirrell was outstanding lineman, and co-captains were Jack Bedan and Hunter.

Split end Art Arbuckle attempts to catch a pass during the Homecoming game.

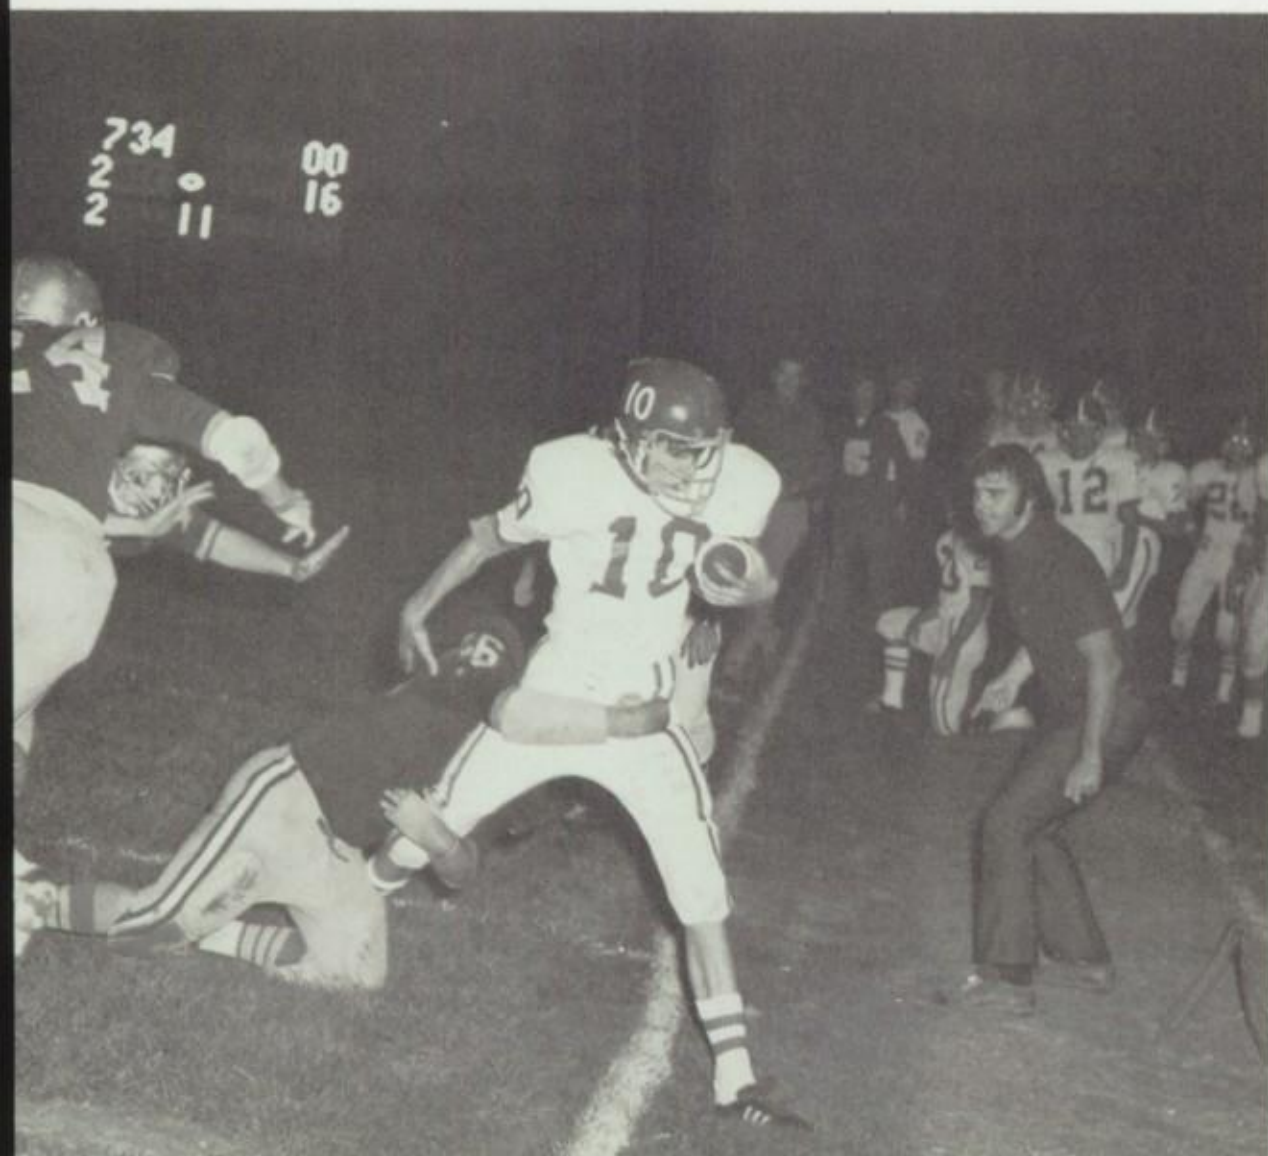

Head football coach John Clements is carried off the field in his last win as football coach at CG.

Running back Clint Pollard is tackled at the Indian Creek game.

The team's best meet was against Whiteland when they beat the Warriors by 90 points. Other meetings included the win over Danville 18-37, the win over the Mooresville Pioneers 23-35, the win over Beech Grove and the win over Triton Central and Morton 22-35-114.

We Got A Basketball Jones

Varsity Basketball Coach Tom Jones yells out some instructions like this helping the team to a 18-5 record, including the Holiday Tourney crown.

"Our success won't be automatic. We can't just get a year older and win. You have to get a year better," said Coach Tom Jones when asked about next year's team.

"If everyone improves on his weakness and we are close as a team, we will do extremely well. I think we will do well next year in the tournament, and that's not ruling out a possibility of going all the way.

"I was extremely proud of them this year. We won the Holiday Tourney; my fourth in five years coaching here, and it was my first time as a coach to win the Mid-State Conference.

"The team refused to lose," said Coach Jones about his non-senior team. "They have a winning attitude which has developed as a tradition."

All-Stars Stomp Faculty 77-62

A first and possibly a dynasty has been started at C.G.

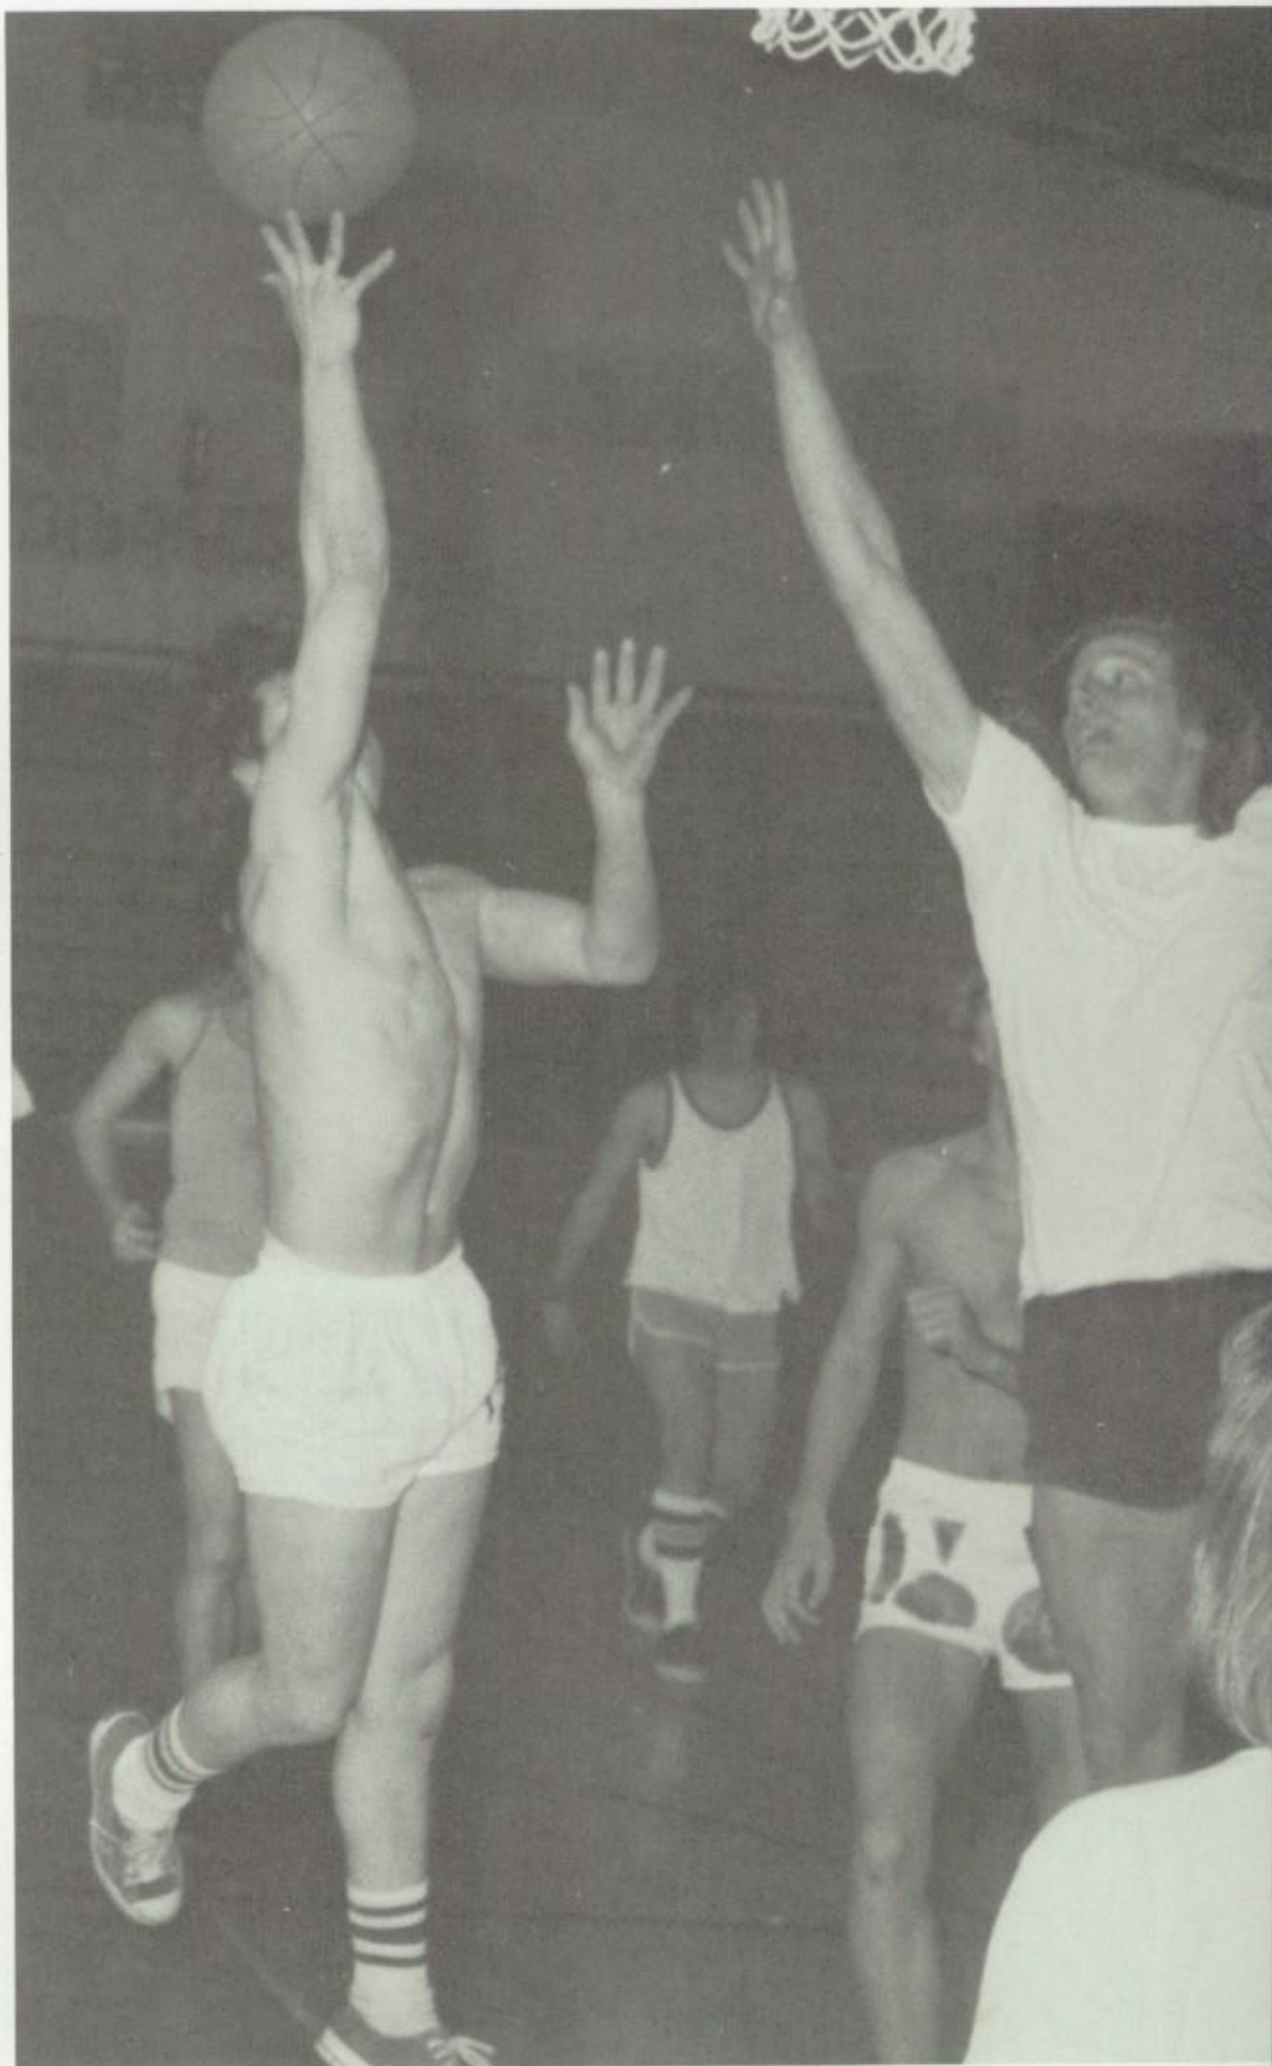

The Intramural All-Stars stomped the faculty 77-62. The All-Stars, led by the hot-handed Gene Gluff, ran the "Old Men" into the ground, even though the faculty "stayed within 25 points" of the All-Stars.

Gene Gluff's team won the red division and Eddie Stringer's team won the white division.

Stringer's team won the play-offs by beating Tom Thompson's team in the final game.

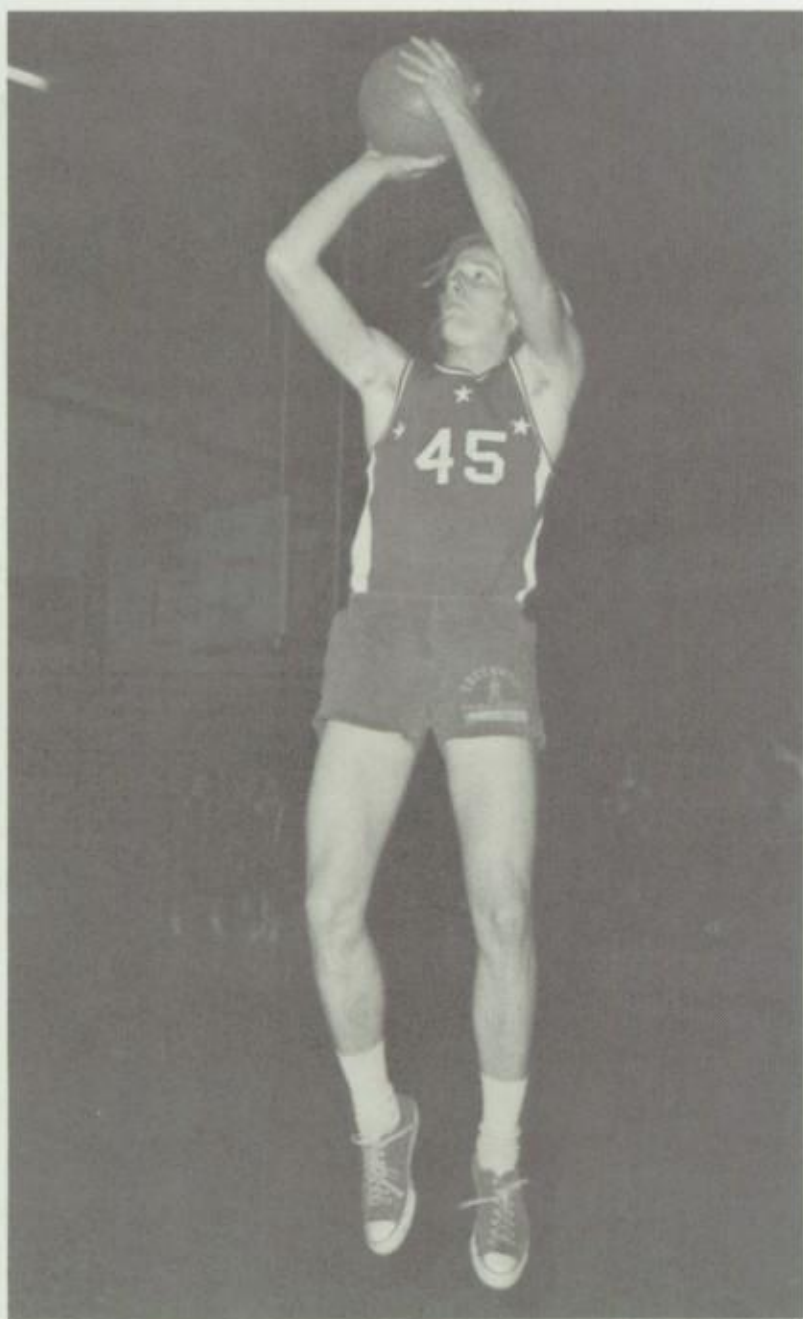

Junior Greg Norman gets set for a jump ball to start the quarter during an intramural game.

11-3 Tally

The Center Grove wrestlers had a good season with an 11-3 record.

Highlights included the win over Greenwood, 33-27, and the win over Brownsburg 81-21.

Outstanding wrestlers of the year were Tom Gaskins, 98 lbs., who had a 21-2 record, and was County, Mid-State, and Sectional Champ and placed second in the Regional. Steve Owen, 155 lbs., had a 17-5 record and was County and Sectional Champ, and placed fourth in the Regional. Ron Gaskins, 105 lbs., had a 15-5 record; Doug Hefley, 126 lbs., had a 14-5 record; and Mark Carter, 177 lbs., had a 13-5 record.

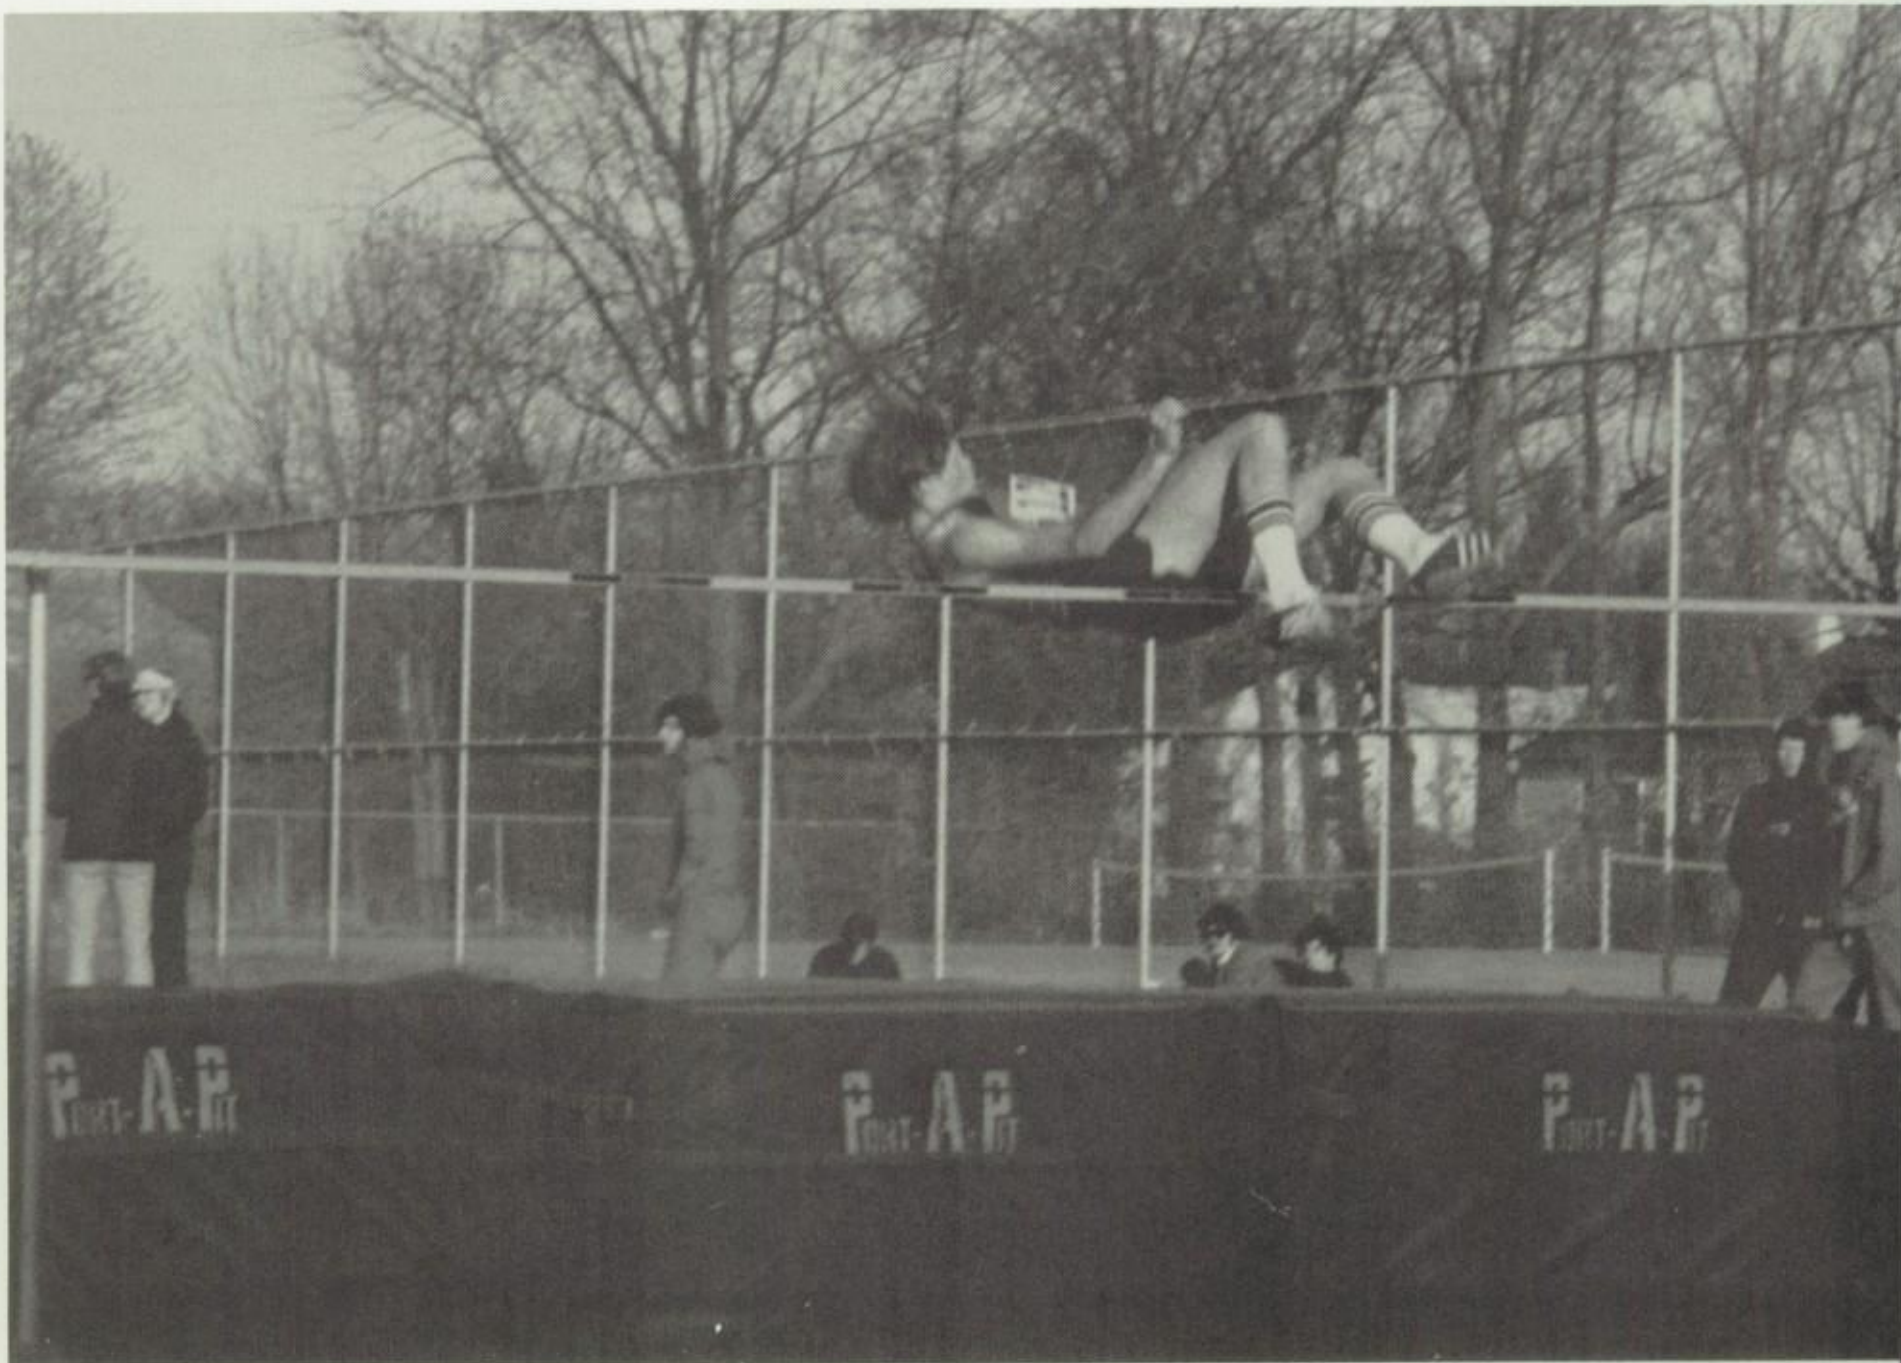

"I am especially disappointed in the lack of support for the wrestling team at Center Grove. It is a shame that a team of athletes with such talent aren't recognized for this outstanding achievement," said Coach Girdley.

Tennis was added to the girls sports lineup this year. Despite a losing season, the team's coaches, Mrs. Judy Brehob and Mr. Ralph Clingerman, called the playing "superb."

CG's volleyball team went undefeated this year, winning all eight of their games.

Beating Greenwood, who was undefeated until meeting Center Grove, was the greatest moment of the girls basketball season, according to their coach, Mrs. Carol Tumey.

Highlights of the track season were winning the county and having two girls in the state meet.

Baseball Season Is Rough

"We had a pretty good season this year," said varsity baseball coach Steve Gantz.

"We blew leads in four or five games that we should have won. We just weren't consistent enough. Some days we had good pitching and bad hitting, while on other days we had good hitting and bad pitching."

'74' Seniors Enter Final Year

Late in August marked the beginning of the last year of the class of 74. The seniors were involved in many activities and were helped along by their sponsors, Mrs. Deborah Cooper and Mr. David Marshall.

At the football homecoming on Oct. 12, the seniors were awarded first prize in the float contest for their entry, "Roarin' Back for Victory."

The class thespians and drama club members presented a serious dramatic play on Nov. 8 and 9 entitled "I Never Saw Another Butterfly."

Late in November was the time for ordering graduation announcements, memory books, name cards and class keys.

May 21 was a major senior goal as the last official school day of 12 years of experiences and memories.

Prom Is Sure Bet

Monte Carlo was the theme of the Junior-Senior Prom, which was May 3 at Franklin College. The room was set up to look like a typical gambling casino.

In February the juniors presented the play "The Mouse That Roared" and made a profit of $200.

In May they went to Brown County for a class picnic.

Money-making projects included selling denim purses, spirit hats and football and basketball homecoming mums.

Don Gulley is really hard at work welding a section of pipe in his welding class at Central Nine. This class also offers metal craft skills and soldering with the equipment provided by Central Nine Vocational School.

Tim Hearn wishes the best while signing a yearbook.

Freshman John Rusher scans his World History book, hopeful of an answer to his assignment.

Bruce Battle pushes hard for a Trojan win.

A leg is all the camera could catch of the C.G. streaker who was running his hardest.

After many hours of hard practice Steve Owen puts it all together as he goes to pin his Columbus East opponent.

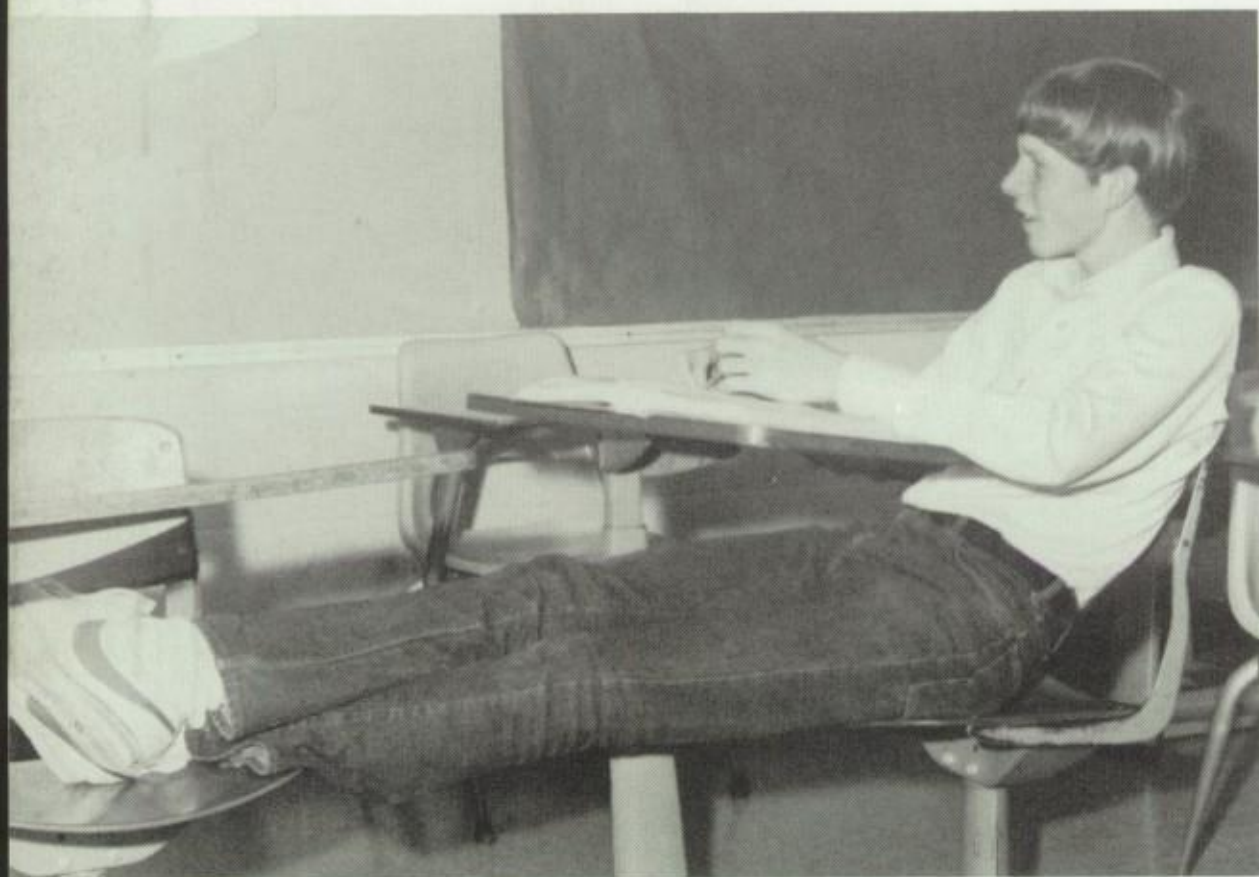

Buffing, polishing, scrubbing and sanding makes for a beautiful finish as Rhea Brannam smooths the rough on her tabletop.

P. J. Marshall and foreign student Rodrigo Barreto relax backstage.

Junior Mark Jackson takes a rest while grading papers for Mr. Ralph Clingerman during 6th period, instead of going to study hall.

Mr. O.J. Sloop helps Kathy Waddle make a decision about what to select from the candy machine.

With the school schedule breaking for the summer, the lockers will remain empty for three short months.

STAFF—Seated: Kathy Heaton, senior editor; Belinda Bridwell, business manager; Jana Cline, ass't editor. Standing: Doug Harty, sports editor; Ken Lewellyn, editor; Belinda Whitaker, underclassman editor; Steve Knight, advertising editor; Jo Wiese, school life editor.

We, the Trojan Staff, hope that the 1974 Trojan shows what the youth of Center Grove can do.

Although we the staff would like to take full credit for this book, it must be realized that it would never have been possible without the help of Mr. Dick Kenard and Mr. Derald Ailes from Newsfoto Yearbooks, Mr. Byron Nash, of Nash Studios, and Miss Mary Lou Schenck, our adviser, and the journalism class.

Also special thanks to Ms. Susan Edwards of Greenwood High School for her help in developing the theme of this book.
